Coming off its first non-winning season in more than a decade, Kansas State looks to assemble the right recipe in 2015-16, as the Wildcats attempt to mix the experience of six returning lettermen with the influx of 10 talented newcomers, including seven scholarship players. The team is hoping to rebound from a roller-coaster 2014-15 season, in which, they experienced plenty of highs and lows en route to a 15-17 overall record and a tie with Oklahoma State and Texas for sixth place in the Big 12 with an 8-10 mark. The 15 wins were the fewest since the 2005-06 season, snapping a streak of eight consecutive seasons with at least 20 wins, while the 17 losses were the most since 2002-03. Despite the record, there were a number of positives from a year ago with seven wins over eventual NCAA Tournament teams, including a sweep of Sweet 16 bound Oklahoma, home wins over No. 8 Kansas and No. 12 Iowa State and a neutral site victory over Purdue at the Maui Invitational.

Under fourth-year head coach Bruce Weber, whose 62 wins are the third-most by a head coach in his first three seasons in school history, K-State returns just 25 percent of its scoring (507 points), 29 percent of its field goals attempted (458 attempts), 30 percent of its rebounding (302 rebounds) and 32 percent of its assists (132). In all, Weber must replace nine lettermen and four starters, including its top three scorers (Marcus Foster, Nino Williams and Thomas Gipson) and its top two rebounders (Gipson and Williams) from 2014-15. The trio combined to lead the Wildcats in scoring in 28 of 32 games with 55 double-digit scoring games. They scored 1,052 of the team's 2,016 points (52.2 percent) on 46.3 percent (354-of-765) shooting, while Gipson and Williams accounted for nearly a third of the rebounding total (323 rebounds). The squad also lost point guards Nigel Johnson (5.2 ppg., 1.7 apg.) and Jevon Thomas (4.5 ppg., 3.3 apg.), who combined to start all 32 games a season ago and were responsible for 40 percent of the assist total (157 assists).

Of the six returning lettermen, five have starting experience, including senior guard Justin Edwards (6.3 ppg., 3.3 rpg.) and junior forward Wesley Iwundu (5.8 ppg., 3.5 rpg.). Edwards is the Wildcats' top returner in both scoring and steals (37), while Iwundu is the leading returner in rebounding (108), assists (61), blocks (20) and minutes (780). In addition, the squad returns senior forward Stephen Hurt (4.2 ppg., 2.8 rpg.), senior guard Brian Rohleder (0.1 ppg., 0.4 rpg.) and sophomore walk-on guard Mason Schoen. Edwards, Hurt and Iwundu combined to play in 92 games a year ago with 43 starts. The trio is responsible for more than 96 percent of the team's returning points (505), field goals (184), rebounds (294) and assists (127).

The Wildcats also regain the services of junior forward D.J. Johnson, who missed the entire 2014-15 season due to a foot injury. Johnson, who has played in 63 games with five starts in his career, has a career 52.9 field goal percentage to go along with averages of 2.9 points and 3.0 rebounds per game. He averaged 3.5 points and 3.5 rebounds per game in 33 games with five starts as a sophomore in 2013-14.

The returning lettermen are aided by 10 newcomers, including seven scholarship players. This group is led by NJCAA Division I First Team All-American Carlbe Ervin II (Oklahoma City, Oklahoma/Connors State College) and freshmen Barry Brown (St. Petersburg, Fla./Gibbs), Kamau Stokes (Baltimore, Md./Fork Union Military Academy) and PARADE All-American and Mr. Kansas Basketball Dean Wade (St. John, Kansas/St. John).

All four players bring a championship pedigree to the program, as Ervin led Connors State to a 53-9 record in two seasons, including a 30-game winning streak in 2014-15, and back-to-back Region II and Oklahoma Collegiate Athletics Conference titles, while Stokes and Wade combined for five state titles in high school. As a senior, Brown led Gibbs High School in St. Petersburg, Fla., to the Class 5A state semifinals for the first time since 2011.

Weber and his coaching staff also welcome several other newcomers, including junior walk-on transfers Austin Budke (Beloit, Kan./Hutchinson Community College) and Zach Winter (Andover, Kan./Hutchinson Community College) and freshmen Ron Freeman (Los Angeles, Calif./Future Prep), Isaiah Maurice (Durham, N.C./Bull City Prep), Pierson McAtee (Manhattan, Kan./Manhattan) and Dante Williams (Arlington, Texas/Bowie).

"Our staff is very excited; our guys had a very good summer," said Weber. "This group has been very coachable and they have worked hard. You want to gain weight and strength in the summer. This group likes to play open gym, you do not have to prod them to get in there, they are already there. During drills, they have been very coachable and want to work at it while coming with excitement. We have to see how they adjust as the season goes on."

Backcourt

Ervin, Stokes and Brown headline a rebuilt backcourt for the Wildcats, where only Edwards returns with any major Division I experience. Ervin and Stokes will share much of the responsibilities at the point guard spot with Winter adding some depth. Brown should spend much of his time as the team's shooting guard, along with Edwards, who will go back and forth between shooting guard and the small forward spot.

Edwards, who transferred to K-State in 2013 after playing two seasons at Maine, will be relied on heavily to guide the inexperienced backcourt, as he has logged more 2,500 minutes in 88 career games with 68 starts to score 1,090 points in his college career. In his first season as a Wildcat, he led the team in steals, while was second in 3-point field goals (21), 3-point attempts (71), dunks (12) and charges taken (7) and fourth in scoring (6.3 ppg.), field goals (75) and rebounding (3.3 rpg.). He scored in double figures seven times, including five in Big 12 play. He averaged 8.3 points on 46.8 percent shooting in the team's 15 wins, including an 8.8 points per game average in the five wins vs. Top 25 opponents. He had a season-high 16 points against No. 12/13 Iowa State (2/28/15).

Ervin started 55 of 62 games at point guard for NJCAA power Connors (Okla.) College from 2013-15, where he guided the Cowboys to a 53-9 overall record, which included a 30-2 mark in 2014-15 and the top-seed in the NJCAA Tournament. A more pass-first point guard, he registered a 2.1 assist-to-turnover ratio in his two-year career, which included nearly 400 assists (393). As a sophomore, he ranked fourth in the NJCAA in both assists (246) and assists per game (8.2), while he led the team in assists, steals (1.6), assist-to-turnover ratio (2.3), free throws made (124) and attempted (246) and was second in scoring (16 ppg.) and field goals made (170).

Stokes is not your typical freshman point guard after spending a postgraduate year at Fork Union (Va.) Military Academy. He starred at the 2014 National Prep Showcase in New Haven, Conn., where he averaged 30.5 points, 5 assists and 2.5 steals per game against some of the best prep schools in the country. As a high school senior, he led City College in Baltimore to a perfect 27-0 record and the Class 3A state title in 2013-14. He averaged 15 points, 7 assists and 4 rebounds en route to earning First Team All-Metro Honors from the Baltimore Sun.

Bold indicates projected starters. Statistics are from 2014-15 at K-State, junior college or high school.
*True freshman Isaiah Maurice and Pierson McAtee will redshirt the 2015-16 season.

Brown scored nearly 1,800 points in his prep career on 47.7 percent shooting, including 37.3 percent from 3-point range, for Gibbs High School in St. Petersburg, Fla., where he led the Gladiators to 84 wins during his tenure and their first trip to the Class 5A state semifinals for the first time in four years in 2014-15. As a senior, he averaged a team-leading 22.9 points on 51.2 percent shooting with 20 games of 20 or more points, including 30 or more points four times. He led the team in scoring, field goals, 3-point field goals, free throws and steals.

Rohleder earned a scholarship for his final season of eligibility in 2015-16 after playing as a walk-on the past three seasons. One of the team's hardest workers, he saw action in 17 games as a junior, including his first career start at Texas Tech (2/4/15). Freeman, much like Stokes, has postgraduate experience at Future College (Calif.) Prep after a standout career at Junipero Serra High School where he averaged 16.5 points as a senior in 2013-14.

Frontcourt

Much like the backcourt, an inexperienced frontcourt will rely on returners Hurt, Iwundu and Johnson to go with talented newcomers Wade, Budke and Williams.

Like Edwards, Hurt has extensive playing experience, having played two seasons at Lipscomb (2011-13), which includes being named the 2012-13 Atlantic Sun Freshman of the Year, to go with a year at Northwest Florida State Junior College (2013-14). A season ago, he saw action in 29 games with five starts for the Wildcats, averaging 4.2 points on 45.1 percent shooting with 2.8 rebounds in 13.4 minutes per game. He scored in double figures three times, including a season-high 15 points in the win at No. 16/18 Oklahoma (1/10/15).

Iwundu heads into his junior season also loaded with games experience, having played in 64 games with 56 starts. Although his scoring average dropped from 6.7 to 5.8 points per game from his freshman to sophomore seasons, he showed flashes of his all-around ability, averaging 6.6 points on 50 percent shooting with 2.6 rebounds and 2.3 assists in the team's 15 wins, including an average of 8.2 points on 51.9 percent shooting with 3.2 assists and 3.0 rebounds per game in the five wins vs. Top 25 opponents. Overall, he ranked second on the team in assists (61), third in rebounding (108) and fourth in starts (24) and steals (23).

Johnson should provide a boost in the frontcourt, along with Hurt and Iwundu, after sitting out the past 16 months with a nagging foot injury. He played in 63 games as a freshman and sophomore with five starts and boosts a career 52.9 field goal percentage.

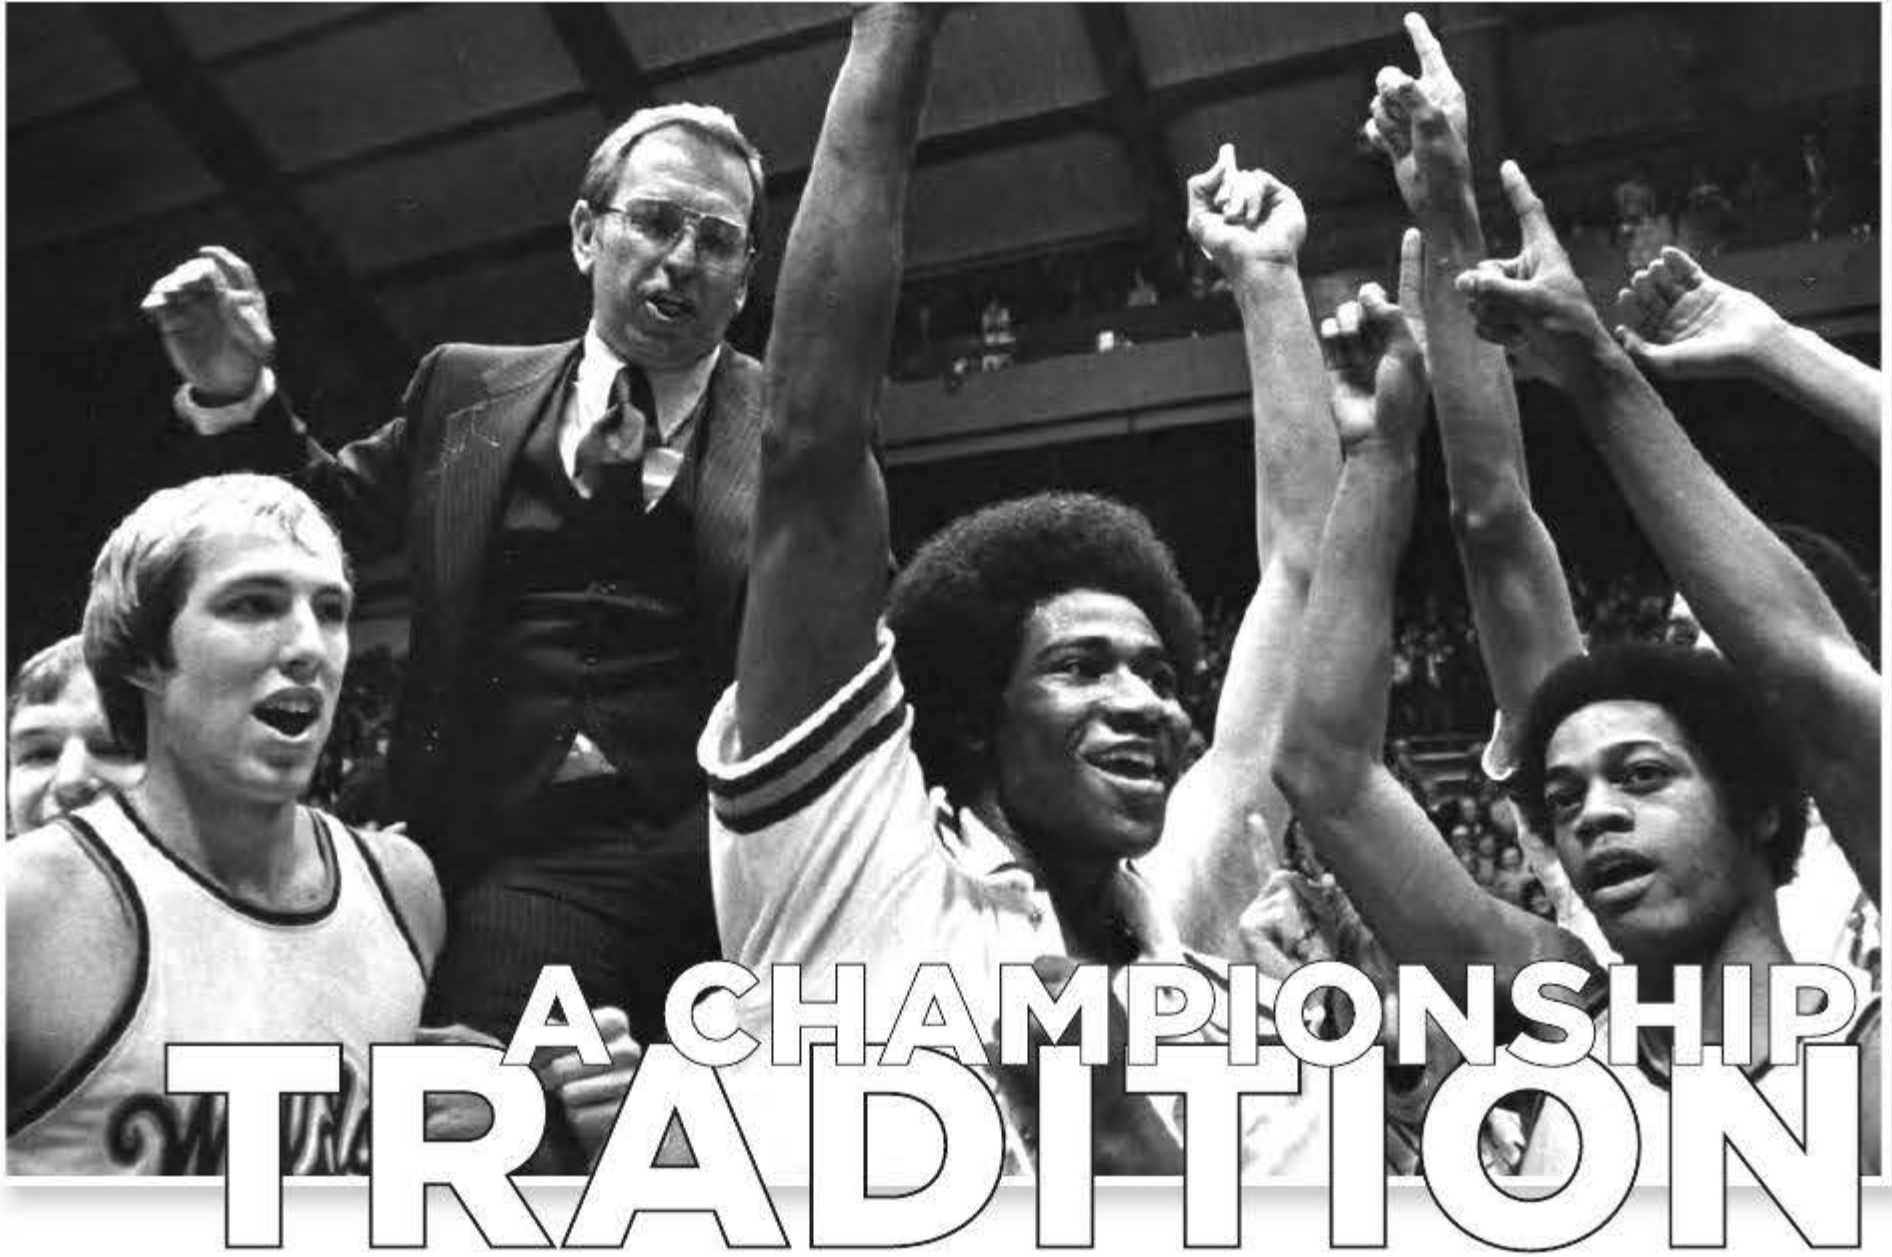

Wade, Budke and Williams should also provide significant help in the frontcourt. A four-year letterman at St. John High School in St. John, Kan., Wade lost just six times in his prep career to go against 86 wins and three straight state titles. He scored 1,749 points during his high school career on 67 percent shooting to go with 752 rebounds, 214 blocks, 182 steals and 176 assists. As a senior, he averaged a team-leading 25.2 points on an astounding 73.2 percent shooting with 9.5 rebounds, 3.9 steals, 3.3 assists and 3.0 blocks in 19.5 minutes per game in guiding the Tigers to a perfect 26-0 seasons and the Class 2A state title. Budke appeared in 64 of 69 games with 48 starts for Hutchinson Community College from 2013-15 where he helped the Blue Dragons to 55 wins. As a sophomore, he was third on the team in scoring (12.7 ppg.), field goal percentage (47.0), field goals (147), free throws (135) and minutes (28.6) and fourth in rebounding (4.9 rpg.). Considered one of the top players in Texas, Williams led Bowie High School in Arlington to back-to-back 25-win seasons and was named the District 4-6A Defensive Player of the Year after averaging 10.1 points, 8.7 rebounds and 3.6 blocks per game as a senior in 2014-15.

"We just tell them to block out all that outside stuff (expectations) and all we can worry about is what we do everyday in practice," said Weber. "We have talked about acting right, treating people right, and playing the game in the right way and that is what we can control everyday and enjoy each other and just see what happens. If no one expects anything and we do something we are just going to get excited. We have to get into some games to see what is going on and get a feel of it and improve on that as the season progresses."

Kansas State fans are known to be some of the most passionate in all of college sports.

Fans have helped make Bramlage Coliseum one of the most intimidating environments in all of college basketball. K-State has won nearly 73 percent of its home games in its history, including 76 percent since moving to Bramlage Coliseum, dubbed "The Octagon of Doom," in 1988-89. The school has ranked among the top 35 in attendance eight times in the past nine seasons, including finishing 26th in 2014-15 and third in the Big 12 with an average of 12,549 fans. K-State is one of just 22 schools nationally to draw over 12,000 in paid attendance for every regular season home game over the last five years. The 213,337 fans that attended K-State's 17 home games in 2014-15 rank third in school history and marks the eighth time in the last nine seasons that the school has drawn 200,000 or more fans to Bramlage Coliseum. The 12,549 per game average ranks fourth in school history, while eight of the school's top 10 attendance averages have come since the 2006-07 season. The Wildcats also play regular home games at Kansas City's Sprint Center and Wichita's INTRUST Bank Arena.

Kansas State, which has led the Big 12 in graduation rate in four of the last eight years, scored record-high marks across the board in 2015 as all 16 teams met and exceeded the NCAA's Academic Progress Rate (APR) multi-year standard for the fifth straight year. The school earned APR Public Recognition distinction for women's volleyball and men's golf and men's and women's cross country after posting multi-year APRs in the top 10 percent of all squads in each sport. The Academic Progress Rate measures the eligibility, retention and graduation of student-athletes competing on every Division I sports team and also serves as a predictor of graduation success. The Division I Board of Directors set cut scores of 930 (multi-year) and 900 (out of 1,000) as a threshold for teams to meet or face possible sanctions. The men's basketball team scored a .980 to soar past the standard after raising its multi-year score by 100 points over the last eight years. During this span, K-State has seen 23 of 24 student-athletes earn their degrees, including all 10 players to complete their eligibility under head coach Bruce Weber.

Bruce Weber

Head Coach [375-193, .660 winning percentage]

Fourth Year | Wisconsin-Milwaukee '78

After directing Kansas State to consecutive 20-win seasons and NCAA Tournament appearances in his first three seasons, Bruce Weber enters his fourth season at the helm of Wildcat program and 18th season overall as a head coach in 2015-16, which includes stints at both Southern Illinois (1998-2003) and Illinois (2003-12). One of the winningest active Division I coaches with over 300 career wins and 10 NCAA Tournament appearances to his credit, he was named the 24th men's basketball coach in school history on March 31, 2012 by athletics director

John Currie. A longtime assistant coach to 1958 K-State alumnus and 2013 College Basketball Hall of Fame inductee Gene Keady at first, Western Kentucky (1979-80), then Purdue (1981-98) before successful head coaching stints at Southern Illinois and Illinois, he has been apart of more than 700 wins and 30 postseason appearances in his 36-year coaching career, which includes 25 trips to the NCAA Tournament.

Weber has guided the Wildcats to 20-win seasons and NCAA Tournament appearances twice during his tenure, including a record-setting inaugural campaign in 2012-13 in which he helped the school to its first conference title in 36 seasons. His 62 wins are the third-most by a head coach in the first three seasons in school history, which includes 32 in the ultra-competitive Big 12 Conference. Weber and Lon Kruger are the only head coaches to guide the Wildcats to the NCAA Tournament in their first two seasons.

Despite a trying season in 2014-15 that saw K-State drop 10 games by 10 points or less, including seven by five points or less, Weber still helped the Wildcats collect five Top 25 wins, including back-to-back over Top 15 foes Kansas and Iowa State. The victory over the Jayhawks marked the first time in 32 seasons that the Wildcats have posted consecutive wins over their archrivals at home. In addition, the squad posted double-digit wins at home for the 14th consecutive season, including five over eventual NCAA Tournament teams.

Weber's second season included his 10th NCAA Tournament appearance and 12th 20-win campaign, as K-State compiled a 20-13 record to go with a 10-8 mark in the nation's most difficult conference, the Big 12, in 2013-14. Among his 20 wins were six over Top 25 teams, including Top 10 foes - No. 6 Oklahoma State and No. 7 Kansas - and nine that advanced to postseason. The season was highlighted by a 10-game winning streak from Nov. 24, 2013 to Jan. 7, 2014, which tied for the ninth-longest in school history, and a 15-game home court winning streak that was the longest in Bramlage Coliseum history and the longest since a 20-game streak at Ahearn Field House from Jan. 28, 1981 to Jan. 30, 1982.

Weber agreed to a 5-year contract upon his hiring in March of 2012, but it was extended for a second time on April 16, 2014, and now runs through the 2018-19 season. He will be paid $1.95 million in 2015-16 and will receive a $100,000 base salary increase each year remaining on the length of contract ($2.05 million in 2016-17, $2.15 million in 2017-18 and $2.25 million in 2018-19). Weber is also eligible to receive a retention bonus of $500,000, which will be due upon the completion of the contract. The extension was unanimously approved by the K-State Athletics, Inc., Board of Directors.

"I'm appreciative of the type of support that President (Kirk) Schulz and John (Currie) have given me and my coaching staff with this extension," said Weber upon signing his new extension in 2014. "A significant part of building a successful program is continuity and this type of commitment ensures that we have all the parts necessary to continue to build upon what we have accomplished the last two seasons. The success we have had is a direct reflection of the hard work and sacrifice of our players and coaches. I could not be more proud to be associated with them and look forward to even more success in the future."

→ Bruce Weber has a .660 career winning percentage in 17 years as a Division I head coach, which ranks 30th among active coaches. He has averaged 22.1 victories a season in his career.

Weber's second season came on the heels of his record-setting inaugural campaign in 2012-13, as he helped K-State to a 27-8 overall record and 14-4 mark in conference play en route to its first-ever Big 12 regular-season championship. He became just the third first-year coach to win the Big 12 regular season since the league's inception in 1997, while his 27 wins were the third-most by a rookie head coach in conference history. The team advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the 27th time and received its third-highest seed – No. 4 in the West Regional – since the NCAA began seeding teams in 1979.

The 27 wins in 2012-13 were the second-most in a single season in school history and just the fifth 25-win season overall, while the 14 conference wins tied the 1958-59 team for the most in school history. The league title was the 20th overall and the 18th won in the regular season and the first by the school since winning the Big Eight Championship in 1977. The Wildcats were ranked for 13 consecutive weeks to end the season, including two weeks in the Top 10.

For his efforts, Weber was selected as the 2013 Big 12 Conference Coach of the Year by the league coaches and The Associated Press, while he was named the U.S. Basketball Writers Association (USBWA) and National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) District Coach of the Year. It was his third league Coach of the Year accolade in his career after winning the honor in the Missouri Valley in 2002-03 and the Big Ten in 2004-05. He was also a finalist for the 2013 Jim Phelan National Coach of the Year and Skip Prosser Man of the Year awards.

K-State led the Big 12 in five statistical categories in 2012-13, including scoring defense (60.4 ppg.), turnover margin (+2.6), assist-to-turnover ratio (1.4) and offensive rebounds (13.4), while the squad ranked among the Top 5 in assists (15.9, 2nd), 3-point field goals (6.8, 3rd), 3-point field goal percentage (36.2, 3rd), rebounding margin (+3.3, 3rd) and steals (7.1, 4th). In addition, the team paced the league in field goal percentage (45.7), assists (16.9), turnover margin (+2.7) and assist-to-turnover ratio (1.6) in conference-only games, while they were second in 3-point field goals made (7.8) and 3-point field goal percentage (38.9). The Wildcats tied or set three single-season records in 2012-13, including wins in Bramlage Coliseum (16), assists (557) and assist-to-turnover ratio (1.4), and drew the second-most fans to its home schedule with 225,503 filtering through the turnstiles at Bramlage Coliseum and the Sprint Center.

Under Weber's direction, three players – Rodney McGruder (first team), Angel Rodriguez (second team) and Shane Southwell (honorable mention) – earned recognition to the 2013 Coaches' All-Big 12 Team. It marked just the third time in school history that three Wildcats appeared on an all-conference team in the same year, while McGruder became just the third Wildcat in the Big 12 era to earn first team all-league accolades. An honorable mention All-American by The Associated Press, McGruder ranked among the Top 10 in four statistical categories in the Big 12, including fourth in scoring (15.6 ppg.), while he became just the second player in school history to finish among the career Top 10 in both scoring and rebounding.

The Wildcats have also excelled off the basketball court under Weber's leadership with a combined 36 players earning recognition to the Big 12 Commissioner's Academic Honor Roll the past five semesters and six named to the Academic All-Big 12 Team that past three seasons. Both seniors in 2014-15 – Thomas Gipson and Nino Williams – graduated from K-State, as all 10 players to compete their eligibility at K-State under Weber have now graduated. In addition, all three seniors – Jordan Henriquez, Martavious Irving and Rodney McGruder – from the winningest senior class in school history graduated from K-State in 2013.

The success Weber has enjoyed at K-State is nothing new, as he has compiled a 375-193 (.660) in his 17 seasons as a head coach, which includes stints at Southern Illinois and Illinois. His .660 winning percentage ranks 30th among active Division I head coaches, including sixth among head coaches in the Big 12, while his 375 wins are the 11th-most by a head coach in his first 17 seasons in NCAA history. His teams have participated in postseason play in 12 of 17 seasons, including 10 NCAA Tournament appearances. He has won 11 NCAA Tournament games, including trips to the Sweet 16 in 2002, 2004 and 2005, while his 2004-05 Illinois squad played North Carolina for the NCAA title. Weber's teams have won a combined six conference regular season and tournament championships, including the 2002 and 2003 Missouri Valley, 2004 and 2005 Big Ten and 2013 Big 12 Conference regular season titles. He has won 20 or more games in all but five of his 17 campaigns, including an Illinois school-record 37 wins in 2004-05, and he has averaged 22.1 victories a season in his head coaching career.

Weber has won numerous Coach of the Year honors in his career, including consensus National Coach of the Year accolades in 2005 en route to guiding Illinois to the National Championship game. Among the National Coach of the Year awards earned by Weber in 2005 were the Naismith Award, The Associated Press, Adolph F. Rupp Cup, U.S. Basketball Writers Association's Henry Iba Award, National Association of Basketball Coaches, Chevrolet/CBS, The Sporting News and Basketball Times. He was also selected as the 2003 Missouri Valley Conference, 2005 Big Ten Conference and 2013 Big 12 Conference Coach of the Year.

In all, Weber has 36 years of college coaching experience, which includes 19 seasons as an assistant coach for Gene Keady. Weber spent his entire assistant coaching career with Keady, first at Western Kentucky (1979-80) and then Purdue (1981-98). The coaching duo helped the Hilltoppers to the Ohio Valley Conference regular season and tournament titles and a trip to NCAA Tournament in 1980 before moving to Purdue. In Weber's 18 years as a Purdue assistant, the Boilermakers won six Big Ten titles, played in 14 NCAA Tournaments and made three NIT appearances.

"Bruce Weber, in my opinion, is one of the Top 5 coaches in the nation," said Keady, who recently finished a five-year stint as a special assistant to St. John's head coach Steve Lavin. "I am so happy for Bruce and his family, and I feel proud and lucky as a K-State alum to have him as the coach of my alma mater."

■ The Illinois Years (2003-12)

Weber arrived at K-State after a nine-year stint (2004-12) as the head coach at Illinois, where he posted a 210-101 (.675) overall record with six NCAA Tournament appearances, two Big Ten Championships (2004, 2005) and one Big Ten Tournament title (2005). He also had two runner-up finishes (2006, 2009) and seven upper-division finishes in his tenure. Through his nine years at the helm of the Fighting Illini program, Illinois was the 15th winningest program in the nation. Seven times in his tenure his teams reached the coveted 20-win mark, including a school-record 37 wins in 2004-05 en route to the NCAA Championship game.

Weber's 210 wins rank third in school history behind Lou Henson (423; 1976-96) and Harry Combes (316; 1948-67), while his nine-year stint was the longest since Henson retired in 1996 and represented the fifth-longest in school history. In addition, his win total is the second-most in Big Ten history by a coach after his first nine years, while his .675 winning percentage ranks as the seventh-highest of any head coach in Big Ten history who coached at least nine seasons in the conference. His winning percentage is higher than mentor Gene Keady (.611) as well as other Big Ten icons Branch McCracken (Indiana), Tom Davis (Iowa), Lou Henson (Illinois), Johnny Orr (Michigan) and Jud Heathcote (Michigan State). In addition, his 89 Big Ten wins rank 27th all-time in the league's history.

Weber had five players taken in the NBA Draft during his stint at Illinois, as Deron Williams (No. 3, Utah Jazz) and Luther Head (No. 24, Houston Rockets) were taken in the first round of the 2005 Draft, James Augustine (No. 41, Orlando Magic) and Dee Brown (No. 46, Utah Jazz) were chosen in the second round of the 2006 Draft and Meyers Leonard (No. 11, Portland Trail Blazers) was selected in the first round of the 2012 Draft. The selection of Williams at No. 3 overall made him the highest-drafted player in Illinois history. A three-time NBA All-Star, Williams helped Team USA win gold at the 2012 London Olympic Games for the second consecutive Games.

Weber coached five All-Americans at Illinois, including three during the run to the 2005 Final Four, while Brown became the first Fighting Illini player in more than 50 years to earn consensus first team All-American status. Brown was also selected as The Sporting News National Player of the Year in 2005 to go along with Big Ten Player and Defensive Player of the Year honors. Weber also coached three consensus second team All-Americans in Head (2005), Williams (2005) and Brown (2006). In addition, Brown earned the Bob Cousy Award, as the nation's top point guard, and the Frances Pomeroy Naismith Award, as the nation's top player as a senior in 2006.

In total, Weber coached 27 All-Big Ten selections, including seven first team honorees, during his time at Illinois to go with one Big Ten Player of the Year, one Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year and one Big Ten Freshman of the Year (D.J. Richardson, 2010). He also helped coach three to both the Big Ten All-Freshman and All-Defensive Teams, including two-time selection and current assistant coach Chester Frazier. In addition, 20 players earned recognition to the Academic All-Big Ten team during Weber's tenure.

Hired as the 16th head coach in Illinois history on April 30, 2003, Weber saw immediate success in his first season in Champaign, as he led the Fighting Illini to a 26-7 record and the school's first outright Big Ten title in 52 years with a 13-3 league mark. He became just the third coach in Big Ten history to win a league title in his first year. The squad won 10 in a row to end the regular season, including six straight road wins, to clinch the title. Armed with a balanced team with four players in double figures, Illinois knocked off Murray State and Cincinnati in the NCAA Atlanta First/Second Rounds in Columbus, Ohio before losing to top-seed Duke at the Georgia Dome.

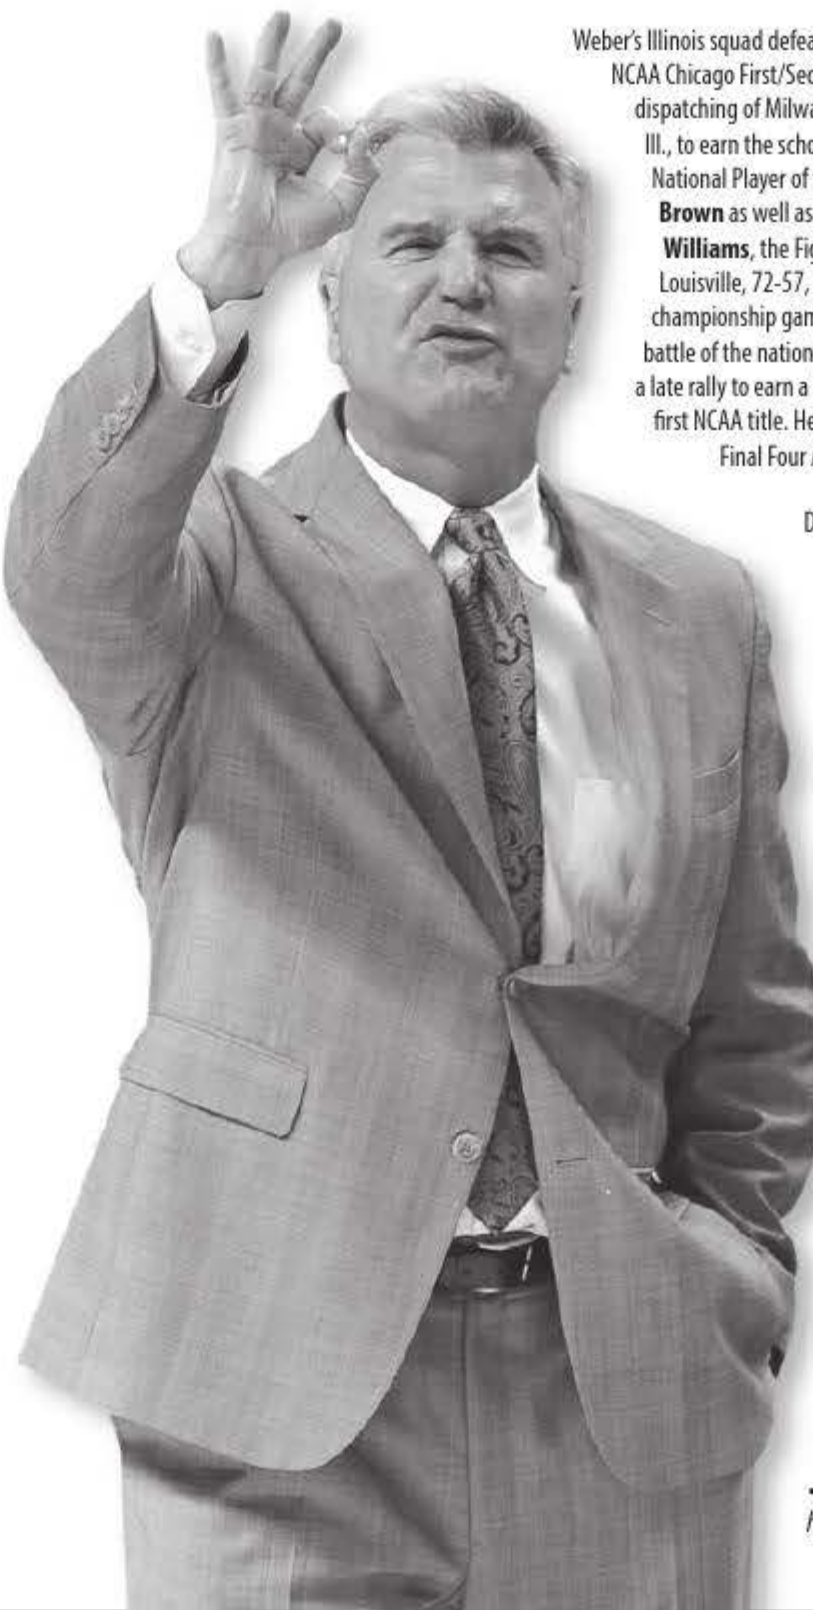

The following year, Weber guided the team to 29 consecutive victories to open the 2004-05 campaign. It marked the best start in school history and 12th-best start in NCAA Division I history. During the 100th season of Illinois basketball, he would take the Fighting Illini all the way to the NCAA Championship game. Illinois closed the year with a 37-2 record, claiming both the Big Ten regular season and tournament titles. His team won the Big Ten regular-season title with a 15-1 record, becoming the first coach in Big Ten history to win outright conference titles in his first two years. The Illini were ranked No. 1 in the nation for 15 consecutive weeks, including a first-ever No. 1 ranking in the final The Associated Press poll.

Weber's Illinois squad defeated Fairleigh Dickinson and Nevada in the NCAA Chicago First/Second Round in Indianapolis before dispatching of Milwaukee and Arizona in overtime in Rosemont, Ill., to earn the school's first Final Four in 16 years. Led by National Player of the Year and consensus All-American Dee Brown as well as All-Americans Luther Head and Deron Williams, the Fighting Illini knocked off fourth-ranked Louisville, 72-57, in the first national semifinal to reach the championship game for the first time in school history. In a battle of the nation's two best teams, No. 2 North Carolina used a late rally to earn a 75-70 win and deny top-ranked Illinois its first NCAA title. Head and Williams were named to the NCAA Final Four All-Tournament team.

Despite losing three starters and 63 percent of its scoring from the NCAA runner-up team, Weber helped the Illini to a third consecutive 25-win season, a runner-up finish in the Big Ten and the second round of the NCAA Tournament in 2005-06. The team spent the majority of the season in the Top 10 and recorded 26 wins to tie for the fourth-winningest season in school history. Illinois defeated Fairleigh Dickinson before losing to No. 17 Nevada in the second round of the tournament.

With a depleted roster that had six different players combine to miss a total of 58 games due to injury during in 2006-07, Illinois still advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the fourth consecutive season under Weber en route to its fourth straight 20-win season at 23-12 overall and a tie for fourth place in the Big Ten with a 9-7 record. Three players were named All-Big Ten.

→ Bruce Weber coached teams have won six conference regular season and tournament titles.

Weber suffered his first losing season as a head coach in 2007-08, as the Fighting Illini fell to a 16-19 record and a tie for ninth in the Big Ten. After losing eight games by less than seven points at one point, the squad came on strong to win four of its last five and five of its final seven games, culminating with a runner-up finish at the Big Ten Tournament. His squad became the first No. 10 seed in the tournament's history to advance to the title game, winning three games to reach the championship game vs. No. 8 Wisconsin.

Weber's 2008-09 squad was one of the most improved teams in the country, as the Fighting Illini posted a 24-10 record, including a tie for second place in the Big Ten with an 11-7 mark, and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the fifth time in six seasons. With 10 more regular season victories than it achieved the year before, Illinois tallied the third-biggest turnaround in NCAA Division I and the second-largest turnaround among BCS programs on the year. The team earned a No. 5 seed in the NCAA West Regional.

Weber's seventh Illini squad in 2009-10 tallied 21 victories - including six wins over Top 25 opponents - a fifth-place finish in the Big Ten with a 10-8 mark and a trip to the quarterfinals of the NIT. Led by junior Demetri McCamey and Big Ten Freshman of the Year D.J. Richardson, the team knocked off No. 5 Michigan State and No. 11 Wisconsin in back-to-back games during the regular season before earning the team's sixth postseason appearances in seven years under Weber and the first in the NIT.

Weber recorded his seventh 20-win season at Illinois in 2010-11 with a 20-14 record, as the squad spent more than of the season in the Top 25 and finished a tie for fourth place in a competitive Big Ten race that resulted in the conference having a then record-tying seven teams in the NCAA Tournament. With its NCAA second-round victory over UNLV, Illinois defeated a higher-seeded team for the second time in school history and recorded its first tournament win since 2006 before falling to top-seed Kansas in the second round.

A team loaded with six freshmen, Weber guided the Fighting Illini to a 17-15 overall record in 2011-12, including a tie for ninth in the Big Ten with a 6-12 mark. The squad jumped out to a 15-3 record, which included wins over NCAA Tournament teams Gonzaga, St. Bonaventure, UNLV and No. 5 Ohio State, before the youthful Illini dropped 12 of their last 14 games. Two players were named to the All-Big Ten team, including sophomore Meyers Leonard, who was selected with the No. 11 pick by the Portland Trail Blazers.

Weber has earned a solid reputation as a coach who stresses player development and fosters an unselfish brand of basketball where the most important facet is chemistry. His teams strive for up-tempo motion offense to go with hard-nosed man-to-man defense.

Offensively, Weber's teams have proven to be efficient with the ball in averaging 70 or more points in five of his nine seasons with Illinois, while leading the Big Ten in scoring in 2004 (72.8 ppg.) and ranking second in 2005 (77.0 ppg.). His teams at Southern Illinois also scored the ball well with averages of 75.5 (2002) and 74.5 (2003) points per game in his final two seasons. In 2009, Weber's Illini led the nation in assist rate with an impressive 69.3 percent of Illinois' baskets scored off of an assist, while the squad led the Big Ten and ranked seventh nationally with 17.5 assists per game average. In 2012-13, K-State ranked among the Top 20 nationally in assists (16th, 15.9 apg.) and assist-to-turnover ratio (11th, 1.38), while setting school records in both categories.

A trademark of Weber-led teams is its fundamentally sound defense, holding opponents to less than 45 percent shooting each of the last 14 seasons, including a K-State squad which held foes to 40.8 percent from the field in 2013-14. The Wildcats, who have led the Big 12 in scoring defense twice in the past three seasons, posted the lowest opponent scoring average (60.4 ppg.) in 30 years in 2012-13 and ninth-lowest in school history. Weber-coached squads have now paced a league in scoring defense five times since 2006, while ranking among the nation's Top 20 on two occasions (third in 2009 (57.2 ppg.) and fourth in 2007 (57.1 ppg.).

■ The Southern Illinois Years (1998-2003)

Weber spent five seasons at Southern Illinois, where he led the Salukis to the top of the Missouri Valley, including league titles in 2002 and 2003, while collecting a 103-54 (.656) record from 1998 to 2003. His teams were a combined 52-15 (.776) those last two seasons, including consecutive MVC regular-season titles and NCAA Tournament appearances. His 2001-02 squad collected 28 wins, including 14 in league play, and made a run to the Sweet 16 with wins over Texas Tech and Georgia. He once again led the Salukis to the NCAA Tournament in 2002-03, where his team tallied 24 wins, including an impressive 16-2 mark in MVC play, before losing in the first round to No. 23 Missouri. Named head coach in April 1998, Weber led the Salukis to its first winning season in four years with a 15-12 record in 1998-99. He followed with the school's first 20-win season since 1994-95 in year two, which included a trip to the 2000 NIT. He led SIU to its first postseason victory since 1990-91 with a 94-92 win at Colorado in the first round before losing at BYU.

■ The Western Kentucky and Purdue Years (1980-98)

Weber has a long association with Gene Keady for whom he spent 19 years as an assistant coach, first at Western Kentucky (1979-80) and then at Purdue (1980-98). After helping the Hilltoppers to a 21-8 record, an Ohio Valley Conference title and a trip to the NCAA Tournament in 1979-80, Weber followed Keady to Purdue, where he helped build the Boilermakers into one of the nation's best. During his stint, Purdue advanced to the postseason play 17 times, including 14 NCAA Tournaments and three appearances in the NIT. The squad averaged nearly 22 wins with Keady-Weber at the controls, including six Big Ten titles, and a 394-168 (.701) overall record.

■ USA Basketball Experience

Weber is actively involved in USA Basketball, where he recently served on the Men's Junior National Committee with Syracuse's Jim Boeheim, North Carolina's Roy Williams and Washington's Lorenzo Romar, which selects coaches and athletes for USA Basketball college-aged competitions, including the World University Games, FIBA U19 World Championships, FIBA Americas U18 Championships and Pan American Games. He also served as an assistant coach for the USA Team at the World University Games in 1989 and head court coach for the Pan American team trials in 1991. Weber assisted Gene Keady in preparation for the Jones Cup, World University Games and Pan American Games while an assistant at Purdue.

Chris Lowery

Associate Head Coach
Fourth Year | Southern Illinois '95

Former Southern Illinois coach Chris Lowery is in his fourth season as associate head coach at Kansas State after being the first hire by head coach Bruce Weber on April 5, 2012. He was promoted to associate head coach on October 2, 2012.

A veteran coach with more than 20 years of college coaching experience, Lowery has played an instrumental role in helping K-State post NCAA Tournament appearances and 20-win seasons in two of the past three seasons. The 62 wins are the third-most by a coaching staff in their first three seasons in school history, while Weber is just the second coach in school history to guide teams to back-to-back NCAA Tournament appearances in his first two seasons. Lowery helped the Wildcats capture their first-ever Big 12 regular-season championship in 2012-13, which included the second-most wins (27) and tie for the most conference wins (14) in school history.

Lowery has also helped coach nine players named to All-Big 12 teams the past three seasons, including first team selection Rodney McGruder and second team picks Marcus Foster and Angel Rodriguez. McGruder became just the third Wildcat in the Big 12 era to earn first team all-league accolades, while Foster joined Michael Beasley as the only true freshmen in school history to earn recognition to one of the three all-conference teams. Foster finished in the Top 10 in 11 freshmen categories.

Lowery is in his third stint as a member of Weber's staff after having served as his assistant coach at Southern Illinois (2001-03), Illinois (2003-04) and now, K-State. During this period, the duo have helped the three schools to a combined 140-60 (.700) record, including a 75-31 (.708) mark in conference play, with five NCAA Tournament appearances, including trips to the Sweet 16 in 2002 and 2004.

Lowery arrived at K-State after an eight-year stint (2004-12) as the head coach at his alma mater, Southern Illinois, where he posted a 145-116 (.556) record with four postseason appearances, two Missouri Valley Championships and one State Farm Missouri Valley Conference Tournament title. His teams averaged 18.1 wins over his tenure, including three 20-win seasons, and advanced to the NCAA Tournament on three occasions (2005, 2006, 2007), including a 2007 trip to the Sweet 16. He was twice named the Missouri Valley Coach of the Year (2005, 2007).

Lowery coached two AP honorable mention All-Americans at SIU, including Darren Brooks in 2005 and Jamaal Tatum in 2007. In addition, his players earned numerous Missouri Valley honors, including two Players of the Year (Brooks and Tatum), four Defensive Players of the Year (Brooks, Randal Falker, Bryan Mullins twice), two Freshmen of the Year (Mullins and Kevin Dillard) and one Sixth Man Award (Tony Young). He coached 12 all-conference players, including five first-team selections, to go with 10 MVC All-Defensive Team honorees, five All-Freshmen picks and four All-Newcomer and Most Improved Team members.

Lowery began his coaching career at Rend Lake College in Ina, Ill., in 1995, where he helped the Warriors to a 20-win season. He followed with stints at Missouri Southern (1997-2000) and SE Missouri State (2000-01) before returning to his alma mater as an assistant to Weber, helping the Salukis to a 52-15 (.776) record from 2001-03 with back-to-back Missouri Valley Conference titles and consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament. He followed Weber to Illinois in 2003-04, where he helped the Illini to a 26-7 record and a trip to the Sweet 16. Illinois also captured its first outright Big Ten regular season title in more than 52 years, as Lowery helped coach future NBA players Deron Williams, Dee Brown, Roger Powell and Luther Head.

After a one-year stint at Illinois, Lowery returned to his alma mater as the 12th head coach at Southern Illinois on April 9, 2004. In his first year, SIU posted a 27-8 record, including a 15-3 mark in MVC play, and Lowery became the youngest coach, at the age 32, to ever win Missouri Valley Conference Coach of the Year honors. The Salukis won the MVC regular season crown and beat Saint Mary's in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. In 2006-07, he helped SIU to its greatest season in school history, as the team won a school-record 29 games and advanced to the Sweet 16 in 2006-07. The squad finished with a No. 11 ranking in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll and earned its highest NCAA Tournament seed (No. 4).

Lowery was a standout player for legendary Saluki coach Rich Herrin from 1990-94. Known as a scrappy, hustling player, he helped lead a basketball renaissance at SIU, guiding the Salukis to consecutive NCAA Tournaments in 1993 and 1994. He helped the school to an 86-37 mark during his playing career, including four postseason appearances and two Missouri Valley Conference titles. He scored 1,225 points and dished out 391 assists in his career. He earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from the university in 1995. In addition, Lowery was named to the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame Silver Anniversary Team in December of 2014 for accomplishments at Harrison High School in Evansville.

Lowery also has some international coaching experience with USA Basketball, serving as an assistant with the U-19 team who won gold at the 2009 World Championships. He coached with Pittsburgh's Jamie Dixon and Purdue's Matt Painter for a team that included current NBA players Gordon Heyward, Shelvin Mack, Klay Thompson and Kemba Walker.

A native of Evansville, Ind., Lowery, 43, was born on July 7, 1972 and attended Harrison (Ind.) High School. He and wife, Erika, have four children, Lexis, C.J., Kahari and Jazmyn.

"I think staff continuity and chemistry is very important and he was critical to the success we had last season. Drew is a very hard-working and detailed-oriented person, which are important characteristics for a director of operations."

Speraw has played an impactful role in helping K-State to 62 wins and NCAA Tournament appearances two of the last three seasons in his roles, first as video coordinator and secondly as the director of operations.

In 2013-14, the Wildcats posted a 20-13 record, including a 10-8 mark in the ultra-competitive Big 12 and knocked off six Top 25 opponents, including Top 10 squads from Oklahoma State and Kansas. The team set the Bramlage Coliseum record for most consecutive home wins with 15 in a row and tallied a 10-game winning streak.

As the program's video coordinator in 2012-13, Speraw helped K-State to one of its best seasons in school history, as the Wildcats registered a 27-8 overall record and 14-4 mark in league play en route to their first-ever Big 12 Championship and a fourth consecutive trip to the NCAA Tournament. The 27 wins were the second-most in school history, while the 14 in league play tied the school record held by the 1958-59 team. It was the 20th conference championship in school history and the first since the 1976-77 season.

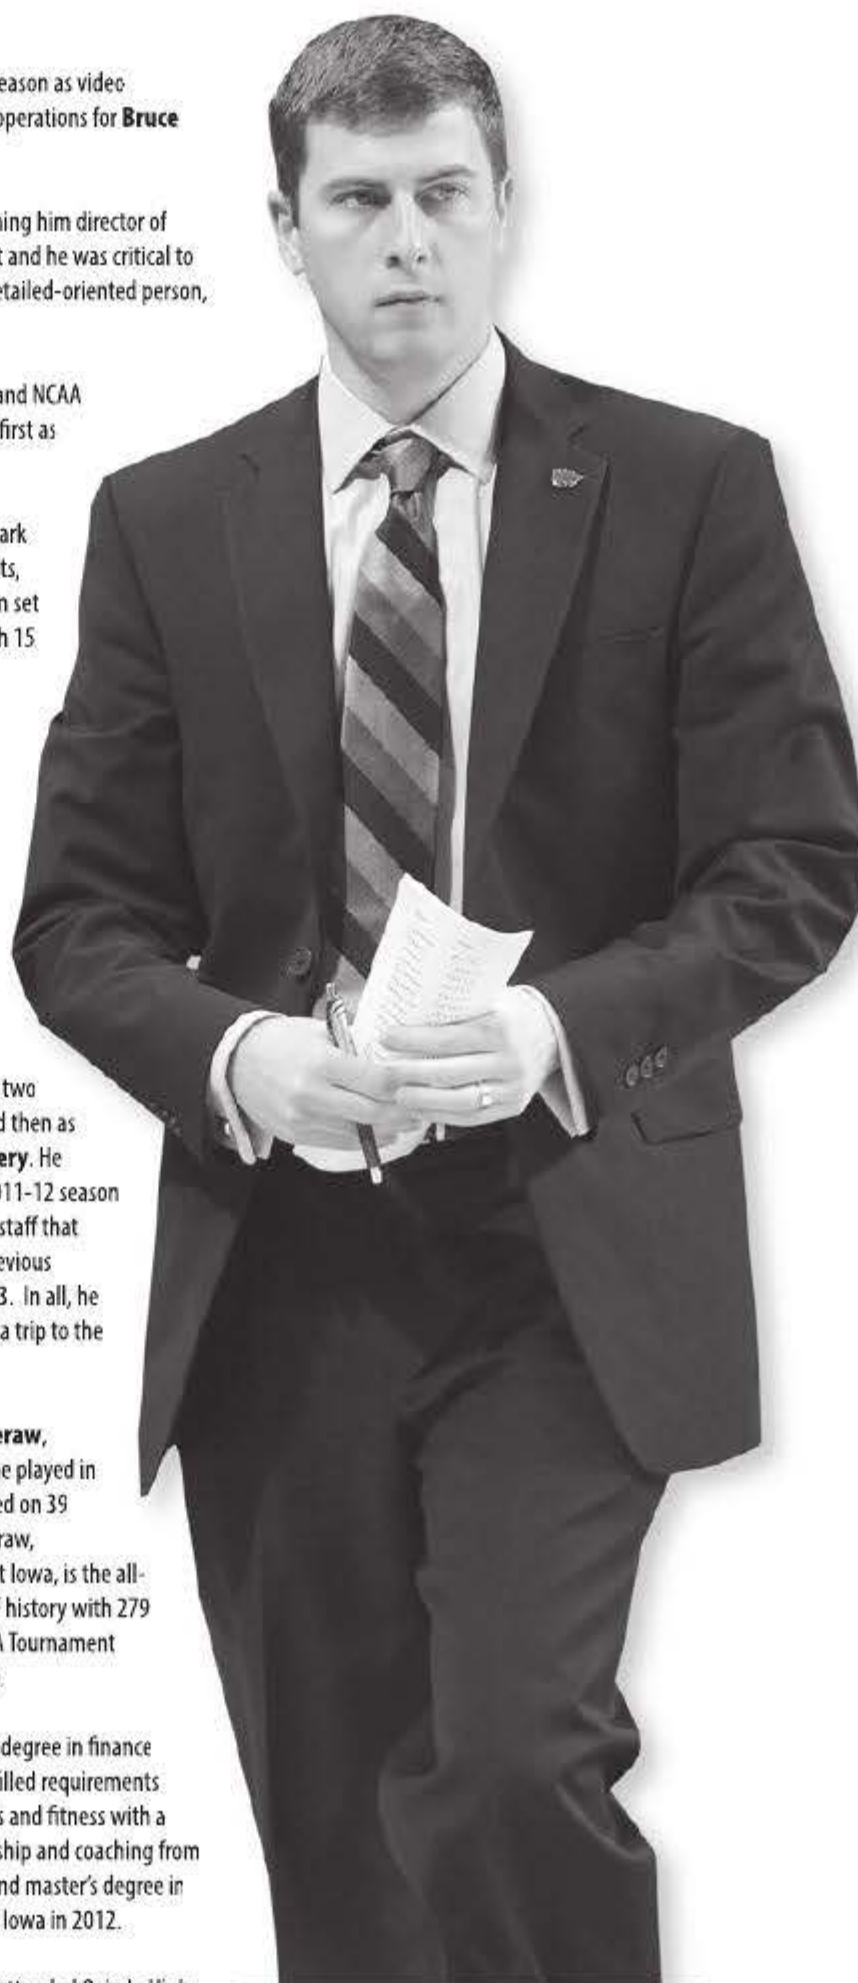

Speraw initially came to K-State in August 2012 after spending the two seasons at Iowa as first, a graduate student manager (2010-11) and then as an administrative assistant (2011-12) for head coach Fran McCaffery. He took on the added responsibility as video coordinator during the 2011-12 season after the departure of another staff member. Speraw was part of a staff that improved the Hawkeyes' win total by seven in 2011-12 from the previous season and helped the team earn its first postseason win since 2003. In all, he helped Iowa win 39 games in two years, including 18 victories and a trip to the second round of the NIT in 2011-12.

The son of former University of Central Florida head coach Kirk Speraw, he played for his father from 2005-10. A team captain as a senior, he played in 66 career games as a Golden Knight. The younger Speraw connected on 39 percent from 3-point range during his college career. The elder Speraw, currently an assistant coach at Iowa, is the all-time winningest coach in UCF history with 279 victories to go with four NCAA Tournament appearances from 1993-2010.

Speraw earned his bachelor's degree in finance in 2009 from UCF. He also fulfilled requirements for a master's degree in sports and fitness with a concentration in sport leadership and coaching from UCF in 2010. He added a second master's degree in business administration from Iowa in 2012.

A native of Lakeland, Fla., he attended Oviedo High School in Orlando, Fla., where he was two-year basketball lettermen, helping the Lions to a 24-5 record as a senior en route to the Class 6A Elite Eight. He also competed on the AAU level for the Seminole Shooters. In addition, he was a two-year lettermen for the Lion football team, serving as the starting quarterback in 2004.

Kirk H. Schulz was selected as the 13th president of Kansas State University in February 2009 by the Kansas Board of Regents.

Schulz has spearheaded visionary campuswide goal-setting to move K-State forward — to be recognized as a Top 50 public research university by 2025. At the end of the K-State 2025 planning process the goal is to have a visionary plan that is inclusive of the K-State family, is exciting and innovative, and most importantly, is a plan that has enjoyed campuswide involvement and participation.

Schulz received the 2012 Chief Executive Leadership Award from the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education.

Among recent university highlights:

- This past year, fundraising topped $100 million for the fourth consecutive year. The $141.5 million raised in fiscal year 2015 is the third most in the university's history.

- Faculty researchers have set records in extramural funding.

- Athletics has initiated $195 million in comprehensive facility improvements, including the Vanier Family Football Complex, West Stadium Center, Basketball Training Facility, Intercollegiate Rowing Facility, Mike Goss Tennis Stadium and more. In 2012-13, K-State became just the fourth BCS school and the second in Big 12 history to win league championships in football, men's basketball and baseball in same athletics year.

- With 40,000+ members, K-State was No. 1 in the Big 12 for the 19th consecutive year for percentage of graduates who are members of the Alumni Association.

- The Kansas Congressional Delegation, the Office of Governor Sam Brownback, and the Kansas Legislature worked with the university to secure funding for the construction of the $650 million National Bio and Agro-Defense Facility (NBAF), which is set to open in Manhattan in 2017.

- Enrollment set a record in Fall 2014 with 24,766 students, as K-State continued its status as the top choice among Kansas high school graduating seniors.

Since John Currie's introduction as director of athletics in May 2009, K-State has experienced a tremendous turnaround and unprecedented athletic and academic accomplishments. Driving toward the vision of a Model Intercollegiate Athletics Program, Currie's senior leadership team turned an inherited deficit in 2009 into national acclaim as one of the NCAA's most financially solvent programs, while initiating $192 million in comprehensive facility improvements – $185 million of which have been completed in the last 36 months including the Vanier Family Football Complex, West Stadium Center, Basketball Training Facility, Intercollegiate Rowing Facility, Mike Goss Tennis Stadium and soccer competition/football practice fields.

Athletically Currie's tenure has been marked by across the board success including a 2014-15 year that saw K-State win nine football games and participate in its fifth straight bowl game en route to a No. 18 final national ranking and advance to the NCAA Tournament in volleyball for the third time in four years. Highlighted by Akela Jones' national title run in the heptathlon, the women's track and field team went on to finish tied for ninth at the NCAA Outdoor Championships, its highest team finish since 2002, while also earning Big 12 runner-up finishes in both indoor and outdoor season. Also, a total of eight track and field student-athletes claimed individual Big 12 Championships in 2014-15, while Jeff Mittie's first year at the helm of the women's basketball program saw an eight-win improvement from the 2013-14 season en route to the WNIT. The 2012-13 campaign was also one for the ages as K-State became just the fourth BCS school since 1998 to win league titles in football, men's basketball and baseball the same year.

Academically, all Wildcat programs boast multi-year APR marks of at least .948, with the football, men's golf, men's cross country, women's cross country and volleyball teams sporting Big 12-leading scores. Approximately one-half of all student-athletes (260) achieved a 3.0 GPA or higher this past academic year, while a total of 125 earned Academic All-Big 12 recognition in 2014-15.

With the tag line of "Welcome to K-State" symbolizing the goal of providing The Best Fan Experience in the Big 12, K-State's marketing and fundraising efforts have been completely overhauled in Currie's tenure. Responding to a new emphasis on personal interaction and communication, K-State supporters have pushed attendance to new heights, while more than $180 million in total gifts have been raised for K-State Athletics in Currie's six years including FY14's cash total exceeding $46 million – almost quadrupling the annual amount prior to his arrival. Meanwhile, history was made as Currie and his staff worked hand in hand with President Kirk Schulz and the KSU Foundation to secure the largest individual donation in university history, a $60 million gift benefitting various academic and athletic initiatives, while the department reached its $50 million private gifts goal for the new Vanier Family Football Complex in just 13 months. Currie's award-winning Fan Experience staff, which was named the national 2014 NACMA Marketing Team of the Year, has created new ticket initiatives that have led to 36 sellout crowds at Bill Snyder Family Stadium since 2009, including a current streak of 27 straight, while the last two football seasons have seen K-State set new school records for total (2013) and average (2014) attendance. K-State also navigated its way through the tumultuous waters of conference realignment and capitalized on the Big 12's unique retained rights opportunities when it launched K-StateHD.TV, which has remained the nation's most-watched institutional premium digital network for the past four years and provides all student-athletes unprecedented live coverage.

The recipient of the 2013 Bobby Dodd AD Award and a 2013 Under Armour AD of the Year, Currie served as chair of the Big 12 athletics director in 2013-14 and is a member of the NCAA Division I Administrative Cabinet. He was one of only two intercollegiate athletics directors named to SportsBusiness Journal's 2011 prestigious "Forty Under 40" list of national sports leaders. He and his wife, Mary Lawrence, have three children; Jack, Virginia and Mary-Dell.

Big Eight Conference Holiday Tournament (1946-78)

For 33 years, the Big Eight Conference sponsored one of the most successful basketball tournaments in the nation - the Big Eight Holiday Basketball Tournament. The four-day tournament included eight teams, each guaranteed three games with consolation and winner brackets.

The event began in 1946 when the Big Six Conference invited SMU and Arkansas to complete the field of eight. In 1947, the Big Seven invited Missouri Valley Conference member Oklahoma A&M (now Oklahoma State) to participate. Completing the field until it became the Big Eight in 1958 were: Harvard (1948); Michigan (1949); Minnesota (1950); Stanford (1951); Yale (1952); Washington (1953); California (1954); Cornell (1955); Michigan State (1956); Princeton (1957).

The 1946 and 1947 tournament were conducted prior to Christmas, being held on the second weekend of December. For the remainder of the event, it was held following Christmas, either December 26-29 or 27-30. Pairings were based on the previous year's conference standings until 1964, but beginning in 1965 the first-round match-ups were based on a set rotation.

The tournament was held at Municipal Auditorium in Kansas City, Mo., from 1946-73. Beginning with the 1974 tourney, Kemper Arena became the home to the event. The last Holiday Tournament was in 1978, and cancelled because the league also conducted a postseason tournament for automatic NCAA Tournament qualification. The two tournaments were conducted in the same year three times: 1976-77; 1977-78; 1978-79.

A Championship Tradition

Kansas State's rich coaching heritage

K-State's coaching ledger reads like a who's who of basketball's greatest minds. These 10 coaches guided the Wildcats to some of their most successful seasons, including nearly 1,200 wins, 4 Final Fours, 26 NCAA Tournaments and 15 league titles.

Jack Gardner

1939-42, 1946-53

146-81

Jack Gardner had great numbers, great teams and great results. That is why he is enshrined in the Naismith Hall of Fame, basketball's highest reward. It's also the reason that he is often credited with beginning the great basketball tradition that exists at Kansas State today.

Simply stated, he got it all started. Interestingly, he is the only head coach in school history to hold the top position on two different occasions. His second stint at the school resulted in some of the best basketball ever played in Manhattan.

Entering the 1946-47 season, the team hadn't finished above the .500 mark for 15 years, but Gardner, renowned for his tactical prowess, rallied the Wildcats to a 14-10 season in the initial season of his second go-around. The 1950-51 team would soar to a 25-4 record and a second place finish in the NCAA Tournament. Gardner's teams won a total of three conference crowns in seven years and captured two Big Eight Holiday Tournament titles, in addition to finishing the year ranked in the Top 20 on two occasions.

Aside from his on-the-court achievements, Gardner is remembered as the force behind the construction of Ahearn Field House in 1950. His successful teams of the late 1940s drove basketball fans in the state of Kansas into a frenzy, and tickets were as rare as the losses. After nearly a decade of trying to persuade state legislators for a new facility, the new arena became a reality in December 1950.

Gardner, a native of New Mexico and a graduate of the University of Southern California, responded with the 1950-51 team which was arguably the best in school history and one of two that would go to the Final Four during his tenure (the other was in 1947-48).

The 1950-51 squad led by All-American Ernie Barrett is still the only team in school history to advance to the NCAA title game.

Gardner left Manhattan in 1953 to take over the head coaching reins at the University of Utah, where he remained for 18 years. He led the Utes to six NCAA Tournament appearances and two trips to the Final Four. He finished his career in Salt Lake City with a 339-154 record while winning seven conference titles. Between 1959-62, his Utah teams posted a 72-14 record.

Gardner, who was inducted into the Kansas Sports Hall of Fame in 2000, has been inducted into 10 different Hall of Fames. He is also a member of the Southern Utah Hall of Fame, Utah All-Sports Hall of Fame, State of Utah Basketball Hall of Fame, Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame, Helms Foundation Hall of Fame, the Crimson Club (University of Utah), the Modesto (Calif.) Junior College Hall of Fame and the Redlands (Calif.) High School Hall of Fame. He was also the recipient of the National Association of Basketball Coaches' Golden Anniversary Award.

Gardner worked as a consultant for the NBA's Utah Jazz from 1979 until 1991. Gardner, who passed away on April 9, 2000, is credited with discovering Gonzaga's John Stockton while working for the Jazz.

Fred "Tex" Winter

Morice Fredrick "Tex" Winter was an assistant coach during Jack Gardner's glory years. He was a natural to succeed his mentor, although the early years were tough. So tough, in fact, that at one point signs sprouted saying, "Spring is here, Winter must go." Fortunately, Winter stayed, and it was a "long, hard Winter" for K-State foes for 15 years. An innovator of the "triangle offense," he earned a reputation as one of the most creative offensive coaches in the land and in 1962, published a book on the offense entitled The Triple-Post Offense.

Winter owns the second-most wins (261) of any Kansas State coach, and laid claim to more league titles (eight) than any other Wildcat coach. He would lead the school to postseason play seven times, including six trips to the NCAA Tournament. K-State won the Big Eight Holiday Tournament four times under his leadership, and achieved top 20 finishes on four occasions. Eleven Wildcats achieved all-league honors under Winter, and two (Jack Parr and Bob Boozer) were All-Americans. He was also named the United Press International (UPI) National Coach of the Year in 1959.

There were several outstanding teams under Winter, two of which made trips to the Final Four in 1959 and 1964. Spearheaded by the play of Bob Boozer, the 1958-59 team was ranked among the nation's top-5 for most of the season and spent numerous weeks as the nation's No. 1 ranked team before falling in the Midwest Regional Finals to No. 5 Cincinnati. Then, in 1964, the Wildcats charged back to the Final Four, finally being eliminated by eventual champion UCLA, 90-84.

A native of Huntington Park, Calif., Winter began his coaching career as the first full-time assistant at K-State for Jack Gardner from 1947-51. Like Gardner, he graduated from USC [in 1947], where he learned the triangle offense from Sam Barry. An All-American pole vaulter for the Trojans, he became the youngest coach in the nation at Marquette in 1951, guiding the Warriors to the National Catholic Championship in his first season. After his second season he replaced Gardner as head coach in 1953.

Following his departure from K-State in 1968, Winter served shorter stints as head coach at Washington (1969-72), the NBA's Houston Rockets (1972-74), Northwestern (1975-78) and Long Beach State (1978-83). In total, he won 454 games in college, while he went 51-78 with the Rockets.

In 1985, Winter started another chapter of his life, serving as an assistant coach with the NBA's Chicago Bulls under famed 11-time championship head coach and current New York Knicks' President Phil Jackson, and teaching the triangle offense to Michael Jordan. He was hired to the position by Chicago general manager Jerry Krause, an old friend he had met while at K-State. As an assistant to Jackson, he was an integral part of the Bulls' NBA championships in 1991, 1992, 1993, 1996, 1997 and 1998. Winter followed Jackson to the L.A. Lakers in 1999, where he collected four more championship rings in 2000, 2001, 2002, and 2009. He still covets Winter's knowledge, bringing newly-minted Knicks' head coach Derek Fisher to Manhattan in June 2014 to discuss the Triple-Post Offense.

A member of both the state of Kansas Sports Hall of Fame and K-State Sports Hall of Fame, Winter earned recognition to the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame in 2010 and the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 2011. He is the fourth person with K-State ties in the Naismith Hall of Fame, joining former mentor Jack Gardner who was elected in 1984, former player Bob Boozer, who was a part of the 1960 U.S. Olympic Team elected in 2010 and Mitch Richmond, who was selected in 2014. This was his second honor from the Naismith Hall of Fame, as he was named the 1998 winner of the John Bunn Award for lifetime achievement. K-State once again honored Winter in January 2015 by dedicating the drive leading to the Wildcats' Ice Family Basketball Center in his name.

One of only two people to be affiliated with all four of K-State's Final Four teams, Winter is now retired and lives in Manhattan with his son, Brian. He is a regular at many men's practices and games. The university recently honored him on his 93rd birthday on February 25, 2015.

Lowell "Cotton" Fitzsimmons

1968-70

34-20

Lowell "Cotton" Fitzsimmons and Tex Winter had at least three things in common.

Neither used their given first name, both took over the head coaching job at Kansas State after serving as an assistant coach and both are remembered for a coaching style marked by personality and winning ways.

Fitzsimmons was a menace in the Big Eight Conference in his two years. He finished second in his initial campaign in 1968-69, then won the league crown in his second and final season in 1969-70. His second team eclipsed the 20-win mark, made a trip to the NCAA Tournament and earned Fitzsimmons Big Eight Coach of the Year honors. It was the school's first 20-win season and first trip to the NCAA Tournament in six seasons since it advanced to the Final Four in 1964. He saw three players earn All-Big Eight honors, including Steve Honeycutt in 1969 and Jerry Venable and Bob Zender in 1970.

Fitzsimmons was colorful, literally. He became the first coach to ever add a third color to the uniforms, when he attached a gold trim during his stay. Of a less literal, Fitzsimmons' style drew attention, too. His first team finished 14-12, but that 1968-69 squad averaged more fans (12,166 per game) than any team in the history of Ahearn Field House.

A native of Hannibal, Mo., he began his coaching career at Moberly (Mo.) Junior College, where he compiled a 224-58 (.794) record in 11 years and won national titles in 1966 and 1967. He was twice named the National Junior College Coach of the Year.

Fitzsimmons left K-State in 1970 to become head coach of the Phoenix Suns, the first of three coaching stints with the franchise. He went on to coach 21 seasons in the NBA, compiling the 13th-most victories in the league's history with an 832-775 (.518) record with five teams - Phoenix (1970-72; 1988-92; 1996-97), Atlanta Hawks (1972-76), Buffalo Braves (1977-78), Kansas City Kings (1978-84) and San Antonio Spurs (1984-86). He was twice named NBA Coach of the Year, first in 1978-79 with the Kansas City Kings and lastly in 1988-89 with the Phoenix Suns.

A two-time NBA Coach of the Year, Fitzsimmons was Senior Executive Vice President for the Phoenix Suns before his passing at the age of 72 in July 2004 due to complications from lung cancer.

Jack Hartman

295-169

Shrewd, calculating and intense all describe the winningest coach in Kansas State history.

Jack Hartman endeared himself to K-Staters for a number of reasons, but none more memorable than his ability to take seemingly less talented teams and consistently come out on the winning side of the ledger.

Hartman led K-State to three Big Eight titles, two Big Eight Tournament championships and nine postseason appearances during his 16 seasons as coach. He saw the Wildcats register 20 or more wins seven times, including 24 wins in both 1976-77 and 1980-81. He also guided the Wildcats to the NCAA Tournament seven times (1972, 1973, 1975, 1977, 1980, 1981, 1982), including four trips (1972, 1973, 1975, 1981) to the Elite Eight. His teams finished the season ranked among the Top 20 five times, including the No. 7 (UPI) and No. 9 (AP) rankings in 1972-73.

Hartman was honored as National Coach of the Year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) after a storied 1980-81 season. Led by All-American Rolando Blackman, the eight-seeded Wildcats charged into the NCAA West Regional Finals on the strength of upset wins over San Francisco, No. 2 Oregon State and No. 19 Illinois. The squad was denied its first Final Four in 17 years by No. 6 North Carolina in the finals.

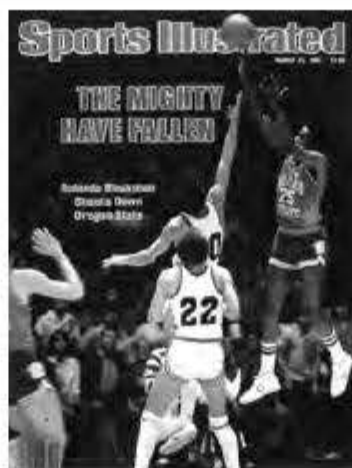

In 23 years of coaching at the Division I level (the other seven coming at Southern Illinois from 1962-70), Hartman compiled a 439-233 (.653) record. He also enjoyed success in the community college ranks, posting a 150-46 (.765) mark in seven seasons at Coffeyville (Kan.) Community College from 1955-62. During his stint at Coffeyville, he was one of the few coaches to take a junior college team through a season undefeated, including the national title, as his 1962 squad went 32-0. In addition, he was the head coach for the United States at the 1983 Pan American Games, and led the Americans to the gold medal.

Hartman coached a number of future pros. While at Southern Illinois, he tutored Walt Frazier, and at Kansas State, he produced players like Rolando Blackman, Mike Evans, Lon Kruger, Ed Nealy and Chuckie Williams. In all, he coached 10 All-Americans, five Big Eight Players of the year and 16 first team All-Big Eight selections.

Prior to his stint at K-State, Hartman led Southern Illinois to a 144-64 (.692) record from 1962-70, guiding the Salukis to the 1967 NIT title with a 24-2 overall record. The title helped Hartman gain The Sporting News Coach of the Year honors at end of the season.

A two-sport star at Oklahoma State, Hartman played professionally on the gridiron. After garnering All-Missouri Valley Conference honors as OSU's quarterback, he played for Saskatchewan in the CFL. He was also an outstanding basketball player, and played for the legendary Henry Iba.

Hartman retired from coaching after the 1985-86 season. He served as a color analyst for the Wildcat Television Network as well as the Big Eight television package following his retirement. He served as interim coach of the women's basketball team during the 1995-96 season, guiding the squad to a 3-4 record. He remained active in K-State Athletics until his death in November 1998.

→ K-State graced the cover of Sports Illustrated in March 1981.Lon Kruger

1986-90

81-46

A two-time Big Eight Player of the Year for K-State in 1973 and 1974, Lon Kruger is remembered for many accomplishments.

At the top of that list, one will find four consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament.

Despite K-State's reputation, no coach had been able to secure four straight trips to the prestigious event. Kruger changed all that by taking the Wildcats to the NCAA Tournament in each of his four years at the helm, and became the first coach in school history to win 20 games in his initial season as head coach.

His best team was the 1987-88 club, which featured All-American and Naismith Hall of Fame inductee Mitch Richmond. That squad tied the school record for wins at 25-9 and advanced all the way to the Midwest Regional title game at Pontiac, Mich., where the Wildcats lost to eventual NCAA champion Kansas. Following that season, he was named National Association of Basketball Coaches District Coach of the Year.

With a coaching style marked by calculated precision and calm under pressure, Kruger led the Wildcats to several triumphs that will be recalled for many years to come. His upsets of some of the nation's highest-ranked teams became almost routine as his trips to the NCAA Tournament.

A native of Silver Lake, Kan., Kruger was a three-year letterman for head coach Jack Hartman from 1971-74, winning Big Eight Player of the Year accolades in both 1973 and 1974. He scored 1,063 points in his career, including a 17.6-point average his senior year.

Kruger served as an assistant to Hartman for four years from 1978-81 before accepting the head coaching position at Texas-Pan American in 1982. He spent five years at UTPA before following his mentor as head coach at Kansas State in 1986.

Following his stint at K-State, Kruger moved onto Florida for six seasons (1990-96) where he led the Gators to the 1994 Final Four.

He left Florida in 1996 to become head coach at Illinois for four years (1996-2000). After guiding the Illini to three NCAA Tournaments and a Big Ten crown, he left to take over as head coach of the NBA's Atlanta Hawks in May 2000. He compiled a 69-122 record with the Hawks before being replaced on Dec. 26, 2002.

Kruger returned to the college game in March 2004 when he was named head coach at Nevada-Las Vegas (UNLV). He led the Running Rebels to a 161-71 record and six postseason appearances in seven seasons, which included four trips to the NCAA Tournament.

Kruger left Las Vegas in 2010 to take the head coaching job at Oklahoma, where he has led the Sooners to 82 wins and three NCAA Tournament appearances in four seasons. In 2012-13, he became the first coach in NCAA history to take five different schools (K-State, Florida, Illinois, UNLV and Oklahoma) to the NCAA Tournament when he guided the Sooners to a 20-12 record and a berth in the second round. He is one of just three coaches to win an NCAA Tournament game with four different schools.

Kruger enters the 2015-16 season with a 561-353 (.614) record in 28 years to go with 16 NCAA Tournament appearances.

→ Lon Kruger with Steve Henson

Dana Altman

1990-94

68-54

Although his four-year tenure as head coach only produced one NCAA Tournament appearance, Dana Altman's tenure at K-State will be remembered most for his uncanny ability to win close ball games, and for pulling off some of the biggest upsets in school history, including top-ranked Kansas in 1994.

Altman's teams were a remarkable 28-13 in games decided by six points or less, which included a 6-1 mark in one-point games. Picked to finish last in the Big Eight, his 1992-93 club won 11 games in the final minute, earned the school's first Top 25 ranking in five seasons, finished 19-11, reached the championship game of the Big Eight Tournament and returned K-State to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1990. Altman was named him Big Eight Coach of the Year in 1993 and he capped the season by upsetting No. 6 Kansas, 74-67, in the Big Eight Tournament semifinals.

The following season, Altman made it two in a row over Kansas when he upset the top-ranked Jayhawks, 68-64, at Allen Fieldhouse. The 1993-94 squad finished the year with a 20-14 record and advanced to the NIT Final Four in New York City. During the team's run to the NIT semifinals, Askia Jones broke the school single-season scoring mark with 62 points against Fresno State on March 24, 1994.

Altman has posted a 533-300 (.640) record in 26 seasons as head coach, which includes stints at Marshall (1989-90), Creighton (1994-2010) and Oregon (2010-present). He built the Bluejays into one of the top mid-major programs in the country, posting 327 wins in 16 seasons with three Missouri Valley Conference regular season and six tournament titles and seven trips to the NCAA Tournament. He has a 123-57 (.683) mark in five seasons at Oregon, including NCAA Tournament appearances in each of the last three seasons. His teams have made 18 consecutive postseason appearances (1998-2015), including 10 trips to the NCAA Tournament.

Tom Asbury

85-88

Tom Asbury continued the rich tradition of Kansas State basketball, guiding the Wildcats to 85 wins from 1994 to 2000 to go with three postseason appearances, including a trip to the NCAA Tournament in 1996.

Asbury was hired after an impressive six-year stint at Pepperdine, where he guided the Waves to 125-59 (.679) record from 1989-94 and three West Coast Conference regular-season and tournament titles. He also led the Waves to five trips to the postseason, including three NCAA Tournaments (1991, 1992 and 1994). Known for developing tough defensive teams, Asbury guided the 'Cats to their first NCAA Tournament appearance in three seasons in just his second season at the helm, as his 1995-96 squad advanced to the East Region where they lost to No. 23 New Mexico.

Asbury helped the team to back-to-back trips to the Postseason NIT in 1997-98 and 1998-99. His 1998-99 team led the nation in field goal percentage defense, as the Wildcats held opponents to just 37.1 percent shooting from the field. That squad also posted the 19th 20-win season in school history and the first in five years.

Upon leaving K-State, Asbury entered private business before returning to bench in 2003 as an assistant coach to Mark Gottfried at Alabama. After a brief retirement, he returned to the sidelines in 2008 for his second stint at Pepperdine, guiding the Waves for three seasons before retiring in 2010. He concluded his career with a 242-212 (.533) record in 15 seasons.

When Jim Wooldridge was hired as the 21st head coach in 2000, he brought with him the reputation as a master of building programs. After all, he spent 16 years mastering the art at places as varied as Central Missouri, Texas State and Louisiana Tech.

Hired after a stint coaching with the NBA's Chicago Bulls, Wooldridge rebuilt a program that had won just nine games the year before he arrived to double-digit wins each of his six seasons at the helm. His 83 wins ranks seventh on the all-time coaching wins list.

After slowing but steadily improving the K-State program, Wooldridge guided the Wildcats to its first winning season in six years in 2004-05 with a 17-12 record. The team started the year with eight wins in a row, which represented the best start by a squad since the 1979-80 team also started 8-0 en route to the school's best non-league record (10-1) since 1993-94. The Wildcats went on to tally six wins over teams that advanced to the postseason. The squad had a number of near misses, as seven of their Big 12 losses came by 10 points or less, including two on last second shots and two in overtime. Despite 17 wins, including its first sweep of Missouri since 1983-84, the team did not advance to the postseason.

Wooldridge again had the Wildcats off to quick start in 2005-06, as the team won seven of its first eight games and ended non-league play with a 9-2 mark. However, his tough luck continued as the Wildcats set a school-record by losing nine games (including seven in Big 12 play) by five points or less. Two of these defeats came in overtime and two came in back-to-back one-point losses to No. 7 Texas and No. 20 Oklahoma.

Wooldridge worked as the Director of Major Gifts at Texas State before returning to the coaching ranks as head coach at UC Riverside in 2007. He retired in July 2013 to become the school's interim athletics director. He is currently serving as the interim athletics director at Riverside City College. He finished his career with a 382-349 (.537) overall record in 25 seasons.

Bob Huggins

23-12

Although his tenure as K-State's head coach lasted just one season, legend Bob Huggins left an indelible mark upon the program.

Hired as the 22nd head coach on March 23, 2006, Huggins came to K-State as one of the most successful coaches in the country with over 500 career wins and 15 trips to the NCAA Tournament to his credit, including the 1992 Final Four.

Huggins helped guide Kansas State to its first 20-win season and first postseason appearance in eight seasons, as his Wildcats posted a 23-12 record and advanced to the second round of the Mastercard NIT. The 23 wins were the most-ever by a first-year coach in school history and the most since the 1987-88 squad tied the school record with 25 victories.

In addition, Huggins also helped the program to its greatest ever season in the Big 12 era, as the Wildcats earned their first bye in the league tournament with a fourth place finish and a 10-6 record. In the process, K-State snapped nationally-ranked Texas' 22-game home court winning streak (its only home loss of the season), swept the series from rivals Missouri (just second time since 1982), Iowa State and Colorado.

One of only four active Division I coaches with 700 wins, Huggins left K-State in 2007 when he was named head coach at his alma mater, West Virginia. He has led the school to six NCAA Tournament appearances, including a trip to the 2010 Final Four. He enters the 2015-16 season with a 765-312 (.710) in 33 seasons as a head coach.

Frank Martin

117-54

Just like it had done twice before when it elevated assistants Tex Winter (1953) and Cotton Fitzsimmons (1968) to the head coaching spot, K-State tapped Bob Huggins' top assistant Frank Martin as his replacement in 2007.

The fiery Martin, a native of Miami, Fla., took the baton from Huggins and led the school to arguably its greatest stretch in its long and storied history. He helped the Wildcats to a 117-54 (.684) overall record, including a 50-32 (.610) mark in Big 12 play, and the team advanced to the postseason each of his five seasons, including four trips to the NCAA Tournament (2008, 2010, 2011 and 2012). He is the first coach in school history to post five consecutive 20-win seasons and the first to guide the team to the postseason in each of his first five years. His 117 wins rank fourth in school history behind Jack Hartman (295), Tex Winter (261) and Jack Gardner (147).

Hired as the 23rd head coach on April 6, 2007, Martin posted one of the most successful inaugural campaigns in school history. He guided the Wildcats to a 21-12 record in 2007-08, including a third-place finish in the Big 12, and broke a 12-year drought in the NCAA Tournament. He became just the second rookie head coach in school history to lead his team to the NCAA Tournament and the first since Lon Kruger in 1986-87. Under his tutelage, Michael Beasley posted one of the greatest seasons ever by a college freshman, averaging 26.2 points and 12.4 rebounds en route to earning consensus National Freshman of the Year honors and National Player of the Year honors from a number of outlets. Beasley became the first consensus first team All-American since 1959.

After an NIT finish in year two, Martin helped K-State to its first Elite Eight appearance in 22 seasons in 2009-10. Led by All-Americans Denis Clemente and Jacob Pullen, the Wildcats won a school-record 29 games and finished in a tie for second in the rugged Big 12. In all, the team set 23 team and individual school records, including the mark for scoring (2,949). For his effort, Martin was the Phillips 66 Big 12 Coach of the Year and a runner-up for the AP's National Coach of the Year.

Martin left K-State in March 2012 for the head coaching job at South Carolina, where he enters the 2015-16 season with a 162-108 (.600) overall record in his eight seasons as a head coach.

→ As a part of its celebration in 2003, the university named a 13-member All-Century team. The group was honored at halftime of the game with Missouri on March 1, 2003. Those attending included (front row, left to right) Ernie Barrett, Pat Hartman (wife of Jack Hartman), Tex Winter, Lon Kruger, Jim Gardner (son of Jack Gardner), (back row, left to right) Bob Boozer, Jack Parr, Chuckie Williams, Mike Evans, Rolando Blackman, Ed Nealy and Mike Henson (father of Steve Henson).

Ernie Barrett

6-3 ■ 175 ■ guard
vellington, kan.

Ernie Barrett enjoyed a storybook All-American season in 1951. The team finished second in the nation and had the honor of opening one of the most spectacular basketball arenas in America, fabled Ahearn Field House.

Barrett captained the 1950-51 club that posted a 25-4 mark and eventually lost to Kentucky in the NCAA title game. He was suffering from a shoulder injury in that NCAA game, and the Wildcats might have escaped with the championship had the long-range bomber been healthy. That's right, at a school where long-range shooters hold special significance, Barrett may have been the best. His career scoring average was 8.8 per game, although he averaged in double digits in each of his final two seasons.

After playing professionally with the Boston Celtics, and after coaching stints at the university, Barrett served as athletics director at Kansas State from 1969-75 before returning as the Director of Development for the athletics department in 1991. He earned the NCAA Silver Anniversary Award in 1976, which is given to former student-athletes who distinguish themselves later in life. He retired from that position in the spring of 2007 after nearly 60 years in service to the university as a student-athlete, coach and administrator.

Blessed with a glowing personality, he will always be "Mr. K-State."

maha, neb.

His stats have withstood the test of time. Bob Boozer simply changed the game, proving that beyond all doubt a big, strong man could play with the finesse associated with the more graceful 6-foot-2 types. As long as the game is played at Kansas State, the historian will have to keep Boozer's name on the checklist.

It was common knowledge that when K-State was in trouble, the Wildcats would clear one side and provide a double pick for a 20-foot Boozer jump shot. Even the cheerleaders were aware of the strategy, but nobody stopped it. As one rival head coach said,

"I knew he would shoot, my players knew he would shoot, the good Father above knew he was going to shoot, but we couldn't do anything about it."

Boozer, who still holds many school records, helped K-State to a pair of league crowns and NCAA appearances. He was all-conference three times and was named consensus first team All-American in both his junior and senior seasons, becoming the first and only Wildcat to earn the honor twice. He was a member of the 1960 Olympic basketball team and played 11 seasons in the NBA with Chicago, Seattle, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, New York and Los Angeles. He became the second K-State basketball player/coach to enter the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 2010 when he was enshrined with the record-setting 1960 U.S. Olympic squad. He was a charter member of the K-State Sports Hall of Fame in 1990. He passed away at the age of 75 in May 2012.

Blackman has spent 14 seasons with the Mavericks' organization, including the last six as the team's director of basketball development, where he has a range of duties from global scouting, sponsor relations, community representation and player development. ## Steve Henson

ncpherson, Kan.

Steve Henson was one of a handful of players who embodied the very spirit of Kansas State basketball. A tenacious competitor, he was once called "K-State's stick of dynamite." Yet, in the midst of all that, he was a brilliant student of the game.

The first K-State player to lead the school to four consecutive NCAA Tournaments, he broke 21 school records and etched his name among the Top 10 in 41 categories. He still owns school career marks in eight categories, including assists (582), assists per game (4.58), free throw percentage (.900; 361/401), minutes played (4,474), minutes per game (35.2), starts (118), consecutive games played (127) and consecutive starts (118). He also ranks in the Top 5 in seven other categories, including second in 3-point field goals (240) and steals (190), third in 3-point field goals attempted (537) and fourth in free throws (361) and assist-turnover ratio (1.98).

Henson is remembered for shooting free throws like a machine (once making a school-record 48 in a row). He not only holds the career mark for free throw percentage at 90 percent (361-of-401), he owns three of the four single-season records, including connecting on a school-record (and nation-leading) 92.5 percent (111-of-120) in 1987-88. Henson also holds the school's single-game mark by making all 17 attempts against Iowa State on Feb. 24, 1988. He is the record-holder for free throw percentage by a sophomore (92.5) and junior (92.0).

Just the second player in school history to capture the coveted Porky Morgan Most Inspirational Player Award three times, Henson was twice named to the All-Big Eight team, including earning first team honors as a junior in 1988-89. Following his graduation, he was taken in the second round of the NBA draft by the Milwaukee Bucks. He spent six years in the NBA, playing for the Bucks (1990-92), Atlanta Hawks (1992-93), Portland Trailblazers (1994-95) and Detroit Pistons (1997-99). He was inducted into the K-State Athletics Hall of Fame in 2013.

Following his stint in the NBA, Henson began his coaching career as an assistant to his mentor, Lon Kruger, at Illinois in 1999. He followed Kruger to the NBA's Atlanta Hawks, as first an assistant coach then as an advance scout, from 2000-03. After a one-year stint at South Florida as an assistant coach under Robert McCallum, he was reunited with Kruger at UNLV in 2004. He served seven years as an assistant coach with the Runnin' Rebels before again following Kruger to Oklahoma as an assistant coach in 2011.

One of only two K-State players ever to be named the Big Eight Player of the Year twice, Lon Kruger lettered three years for head coach Jack Hartman from 1971-74. He guided the Wildcats to a 61-22 (.735) record, including a pair of NCAA Elite Eight appearances and two Big Eight regular season titles.

A native of Silver Lake, Kan., Kruger became the first Wildcat ever to be named conference player of the year when he earned the honor in 1973 and the first to earn the award twice when he repeated the distinction in 1974. He remains one of just three players in school history to ever receive the honor and one of just two (joining fellow retiree Mike Evans) to earn the accolade twice. He was also named first team All-Big Eight in 1973 and 1974 and also the conference's Newcomer of the Year in 1972.

Kruger earned Academic All-America and first team Academic All-Big Eight honors in both 1973 and 1974. He is one of only three Wildcat players to earn Academic All-America accolades twice in a career. One of just 25 players in school history to score 1,000 career points, he averaged 13.3 points on 46.8 percent shooting with 2.6 rebounds in 80 games.

Following graduation, Kruger was drafted by both the NBA's Atlanta Hawks and Major League Baseball's St. Louis Cardinals. He played pro basketball in Israel from 1974 to 1975.

Kruger moved into the coaching ranks at Pittsburg (Kan.) State in 1976 before becoming an assistant coach at his alma mater under Hartman in 1977. He helped the Wildcats to a 103-49 (.678) overall record from 1977-82, including three NCAA Tournament appearances and the 1980 Big Eight Tournament Championship. He left to become head coach and athletics director at Texas-Pan American in 1982, guiding the Broncs to a 52-59 record from 1982-86.

Following the retirement of Hartman, Kruger was named head coach at K-State in the spring of 1986. In leading the Wildcats to an 81-46 (.638) overall record, he became the first head coach in school history to guide four consecutive teams to the NCAA Tournament. His regular season conference winning percentage (.607) ranks fifth all-time among Big Eight Conference coaches, while his victory total (81) ranks sixth among coaches in Kansas State history.

Kruger became the first head coach in K-State history to win 20 games in his initial season, guiding the Wildcats to a 20-11 record and the second round of the NCAA Tournament. His best team was the 1987-88 squad, which featured first team All-American and eventual Naismith Basketball Hall of Famer Mitch Richmond. The squad tied the school record for wins with its 25-9 mark and advanced all the way to the NCAA Midwest Regional title game in Pontiac, Mich. Following that season, Kruger was named the NABC District Coach of the Year.

During his tenure, Kruger coached one All-American, four first team All-Big Eight selections, two Big Eight Newcomers of the Year and three first team Academic All-Big Eight honorees.

Following his head coaching stint in Manhattan, Kruger moved on to Florida for six seasons (1990-96) where he led the Gators to four postseason appearances, including the 1994 Final Four. He followed with a four-year stint at Illinois (1996-2000), guiding the Fighting Illini to three NCAA Tournament appearances and the 1997-98 Big Ten co-championship.

Kruger left Illinois in May 2000 to take over as head coach of the NBA's Atlanta Hawks, where he compiled a 69-122 record in two and half years. After a stint as an assistant with the New York Knicks, he returned to the college game in March 2004 when he was named head coach at UNLV. During his seven-year stint with the Runnin' Rebels, Kruger posted 161 wins and six postseason trips.

Kruger left UNLV in 2010 to take the head coaching position at Oklahoma, where he has led the Sooners to 82 wins and three NCAA Tournament appearances in three seasons. In 2012-13, he became the first coach in NCAA history to take five different schools (K-State, Florida, Illinois, UNLV and Oklahoma) to the NCAA Tournament when he guided the Sooners to a 20-12 record and a berth in the second round. He is one of just three coaches to win an NCAA Tournament game with four different schools. He enters the 2015-16 season with a 561-353 (.614) record in 28 years as a head coach to go with 16 NCAA Tournament appearances.

Ed Nealy

Bonner Springs, Kan.

Ed Nealy was the workhorse frontliner who every basketball coach dreams about, but with an added degree of basketball savvy. While he was at K-State, the Wildcats rarely lost the rebounding wars. In fact, they rarely lost - period. In his four-year playing career for head coach Jack Hartman, K-State totaled 85 wins, including three consecutive 20-win seasons.

In addition, Nealy led the Wildcats to three NCAA Tournament appearances, including a trip to the West Region Finals in 1981, and the 1980 Big Eight Conference Tournament championship.

Much of that success was due directly to the efforts of Nealy, who finished his K-State career with 1,069 rebounds - tops in school history. He stands as the third all-time career rebounder in Big Eight history and the second all-time career rebounder in Big Eight Tournament history (93). He is 11th on the Wildcats' career scoring list with 1,304 points. In fact, he is the only player in school history to total 1,000 points and 1,000 rebounds in a career. He ranks first in career double-digit rebounding games (45) and second in career double-doubles (36), while he is the only player to lead the team in rebounding four consecutive seasons.

Those numbers also paid off in postseason laurels. Following a stellar senior campaign, Nealy capped off two previous All-Big Eight selections by earning a spot on The Associated Press honorable mention All-America squad in 1982. He was named the conference's Newcomer of the Year in 1979.

Nealy's successes were hardly limited to the basketball court, though. He was twice named an Academic All-American in 1981 and 1982, along with Tim Jankovich, while he was selected to the Big Eight's All-Academic team three times, all while majoring in engineering technology.

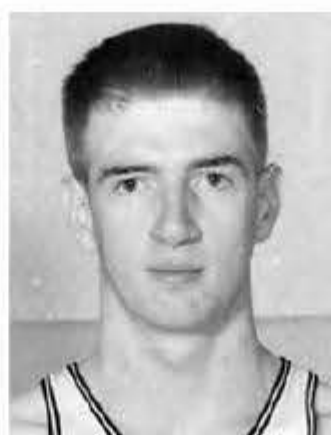

Nealy played 10 seasons in the NBA, including stints with the Kansas City (1982-85), San Antonio (1986-88), Chicago (1988-89; 1989-90; 1992-93), Phoenix (1988-89; 1990-92) and Golden State (1992-93). He was a member of the Chicago Bulls' NBA Championship teams in 1991 and 1993. He scored 1,451 points in his NBA career on 49.8 percent shooting with 1,799 rebounds.

→ Nealy is the only Wildcat to total 1,000 points and 1,000 rebounds in a career.

Jack Parr was not what you would call a picture player early in his career, but he was endowed with an intensity and inner drive that spearheaded him to All-America stature. Rugged and strong, he would literally sweep the boards. His assortment of shots included a hook and a soft "face the basket" jumper.

A three-year letterman for head coach Tex Winter, Parr helped the Wildcats to a 54-21 overall record from 1955-58 to go with two Big Seven Conference championships and a pair of trips to the NCAA Tournament. In his final year, the squad posted a 22-5 record and advanced to the school's second Final Four in Louisville, Ky. The Wildcats finished in the top 5 in both polls.

His most thrilling game came against Kansas in 1958 when Parr made perhaps his greatest defensive play. With the final seconds ticking away, the Jayhawks went to Wilt Chamberlain under the basket for an assumed easy lay-in. Parr went straight up and batted the ball away, enabling K-State to take a thrilling 79-75 win.

Parr was twice named an All-American in his distinguished career, earning second team honors from the Helms Foundation and Converse Yearbook as a junior in 1957 and third team accolades as a senior in 1958 by the National Association of Basketball Coaches. He was also an All-Big Seven Conference selection three consecutive seasons from 1956 to 1958.

Parr still ranks among the top-10 in several K-State statistic categories, including first in both career (12.7 rpg.) and single-season rebounds per game (14.5 rpg.). He also holds both the sophomore and junior records for rebounding average, while he has the mark for most total rebounds by a sophomore. He is the first and only Wildcat to post four 20-point and 20-rebound games in his career, while only three other players (Michael Beasley, Bob Boozer and Nick Pino) have done it more than once. He ranks second in career (889) and single-season rebounds (340), while his 26 rebounds against Drake on Dec. 8, 1956 still place second all-time on the single-game chart. In addition, he ranks 14th on the school's all-time scoring list with 1,184 points.

Parr played one season professionally with the Cincinnati Royals before turning to private business and becoming a Big Eight basketball official. He was elected to the Kansas State Sports Hall of Fame on Sept. 3, 2004, while he was in the first class (along with Ernie Barrett and teammate Bob Boozer) to have his jersey retired by K-State on Feb. 5, 2005.

→ Parr still ranks first in both career and single-season rebounds per game.

He also transferred to K-State after a distinguished junior college career at Mobley (Mo.) Community College from 1984-86.

The 6-foot-5 native of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Richmond posted perhaps the greatest two-year playing career in school history. He is one of 25 players in school history to top 1,000 points, while he ranks 10th on the all-time scoring list with 1,327 points and fourth in career scoring average (20.7 ppg.). → Richmond's 1,327 points are the most by a Wildcat in a two-year career.

As a senior, Richmond led the Wildcats to a then school-record tying 25 wins, a second-place finish in the Big Eight and a rousing trip through the NCAA Tournament that led K-State to an appearance in the Elite Eight. He broke the then single-season scoring mark by pouring in 786 points. He averaged 22.6 points on 51.4 percent shooting in 1987-88 with 6.3 rebounds and 3.7 assists en route to earning second team All-America honors from UPI, Basketball Weekly, The Sporting News and U.S. Basketball Writers of America (USBWA). He scored a career-high 41 points vs. Oklahoma on Feb. 13, 1988, which stands as the eighth-most points in school history, including the fifth-highest in a league game.

Following graduation, Richmond won a spot on the 1988 U.S. Olympic Basketball Team and was a first-round draft pick (fifth overall selection) by the Golden State Warriors. He became one of the premier shooting guards in the NBA during his 14-year career, appearing in six NBA All-Star games, and being named the most valuable player of the 1995 NBA All-Star game. He also earned second team All-NBA honors in 1994, 1995 and 1997 and third team honors in 1996 and 1998 with the Sacramento Kings. He is one of just 10 players in NBA history to average 21.0 or more points in each of his first 10 seasons, joining the likes of Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Allen Iverson, Michael Jordan, Shaquille O'Neal and Oscar Robertson.

Richmond was an immediate hit with Golden State, teaming with Chris Mullin and Tim Hardaway to form "Run TMC" (TMC for Tim, Mitch and Chris), a high-scoring trio that gave the Warriors the most potent offense from 1988-91. He was named the NBA's Rookie of the Year in 1989 after averaging 22.0 points per game. He later played seven seasons with the Kings, becoming the first player in the Sacramento era to have his jersey retired (No. 2) on Dec. 5, 2003. He scored over 20,000 points in his NBA career on 45.5 percent shooting, including 39 percent from 3-point range, with 3,801 rebounds, 3,398 assists, 1,211 steals and 254 blocks in 976 career games. Richmond played on two Olympic teams for the United States, winning the bronze medal at the 1988 Seoul Olympics and the gold medal at the 1996 Barcelona Olympics playing for the "Dream Team." He retired following his 14th season in the NBA after helping the Los Angeles Lakers win their third straight NBA title in 2002.

Affectionately known as "Mr. K-State," Ernie Barrett enjoyed a storybook senior season in 1950-51, as he led the Wildcats to the NCAA Championship game, earned first team All-America honors from Helms, The Sporting News and International News Service and played on the team that opened historic Ahearn Field House.

A 6-foot-3 shooting guard from Wellington, Kan., Barrett was the driving force behind K-State's only team to reach the NCAA title game. He led the Wildcats to the 1951 Big Seven title with an 11-1 conference mark and a 25-4 overall mark. On their way to the NCAA Championship game, Barrett and his teammates defeated No. 12 Arizona, No. 11 BYU and No. 24 Oklahoma A&M (State). He averaged 10.0 and 10.3 points per game as a junior and senior, respectively.

After a two-year playing career for Red Auerbach and the Boston Celtics, Barrett returned to K-State as an assistant basketball coach, beginning a long association with the athletics department, which included a term as athletics director from 1969-75. He retired from his position of the Director of Development in the spring of 2007 after nearly 60 years in service to the university as a student-athlete, coach and administrator.

Considered to be Kansas State's most decorated player, Bob Boozer was the landslide leading vote-getter for the school's All-Century Basketball Team in 2003. A first team All-American in both 1957-58 and 1958-59, he averaged a double-double for his 77-game career with 21.9 points on 44 percent shooting with 10.7 rebounds per game. He is one of only two players (Willie Murrell) to average 20 points and 10 rebounds in a career. A 6-foot-8 forward from Omaha, Neb., Boozer averaged a then school-record 25.6 points per game as a senior in 1958-59 en route to leading the school to the Big Eight regular season title with a perfect 14-0 mark and the No. 1 ranking in the final regular season poll. The mark stood for nearly 50 years until Michael Beasley, who also wore No. 30 on his jersey, averaged 26.2 points in 2007-08. Boozer remains the only player in school history to be a two-time consensus first team All-American, as he earned the honor as a junior in 1958 and as a senior in 1959.

Although he played nearly 50 years ago, Boozer still ranks among numerous Top 10 lists for single-game, single-season and career records at K-State, including first in career 20-point games (45), second in career scoring average (21.9 ppg.) and 30-point games (10), fourth in career rebounds (824) and fifth in career points (1,685). He is the only player to ever record a double-double in a Final Four game and the only one ever named to an All-Final Four team. Retired 2009

One of the most recognizable players in school history, Mitch Richmond was a two-year letterman for head coach Lon Kruger from 1986-88. He helped guide the Wildcats to 45 wins, two NCAA Tournament appearances and a trip to the 1988 NCAA Midwest Regional Final.

The 6-foot-5 native of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Richmond assembled perhaps the greatest two-year playing career in school history. He is one of just 25 players in school history to top 1,000 points, while he ranks 10th on the all-time scoring list with 1,327 points and fourth in career scoring average (20.7 ppg.). His 1,327 points are the most by a player in a two-year career, while his 786 points as a junior in 1987-88 are the second-most in a single-season at K-State. He still ranks among the top 10 in 21 single-game, season and/or career statistical categories in school history.

In April 2014, Richmond was named to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame. He is also a member of the school's Hall of Fame (1998) and All-Century Basketball Team (2003). His jersey was retired in 2009.

As a senior, Richmond led the Wildcats to a then school-record tying 25 wins, a second-place finish in the Big Eight and a rousing trip through the NCAA Tournament that led K-State to an appearance in the Elite Eight. He broke the then single-season scoring mark by pouring in 786 points. He averaged 22.6 points on 51.4 percent shooting in 1987-88 with 6.3 rebounds and 3.7 assists en route to earning second team All-America honors from UPI, Basketball Weekly, The Sporting News and U.S. Basketball Writers of America (USBWA).

In all, Richmond still ranks in the top 10 in four career categories, including fourth in 20-point games (34), fifth in 30-point games (seven), sixth in minutes played (33.8 mpg.) and 10th in field goals made (465). He scored a career-high 41 points against Oklahoma on Feb. 13, 1988, which stands as the eighth-most points in school history, including the fifth-highest in a league game.

Following graduation, Richmond won a spot on the 1988 U.S. Olympic Basketball Team and was a first-round draft pick (fifth overall selection) by the Golden State Warriors. He became one of the premier shooting guards in the NBA during his 14-year career, becoming one of just 10 players in NBA history to average 21.0 or more points in each of his first 10 seasons. He was also a six-time NBA All-Star and five times an All-NBA selection.

Now in its 28th season of hosting Wildcat men's basketball, the Fred Bramlage Coliseum has carved its own niche in Kansas State's colorful history of basketball residence. In keeping with the tradition established by Nichols Gymnasium (1910-50) and Ahearn Field House (1950-88), the arena has given the team a deafening, winning environment.

K-State has posted a 328-103 (.761) all-time mark in its current home, including an emotional 81-77 win over Purdue (led by alumnus Gene Keady and assisted by current head coach Bruce Weber) in the facility's debut on Nov. 26, 1988. The 328 victories are the second-most at a home venue for the Wildcats, trailing the 378 wins at Ahearn Field House.

In 2012-13, K-State tied both the record for highest winning percentage (16-1; .941), also set in 2010-11, as well as the mark for most wins in a single season (16), also set in 2008-09. The team has collected a 127-23 (.847) record at home over the past nine seasons, including a 58-18 (.763) mark in Big 12 play. The 127 wins rank third among all Big 12 schools in that span, while the 58 league victories at home are only surpassed by Kansas. In all, the program has earned double-digit victories in 22 of its 27 seasons in the arena, including a current streak of 14 consecutive seasons. The squad has an 188-46 record at home, including a 108-10 mark in non-conference action, since the 2001-02 season for an average of just over 13 home wins (13.4) per season.

Wins over Top 25 teams have also been a regular occurrence at Bramlage Coliseum since its opening with 32 ranked opponents falling to K-State, including 14 Top 10 opponents. Three No. 1 teams have been defeated during the arena's history, including No. 1 Missouri in 1990, No. 1 Texas in 2010 and No. 1 Kansas in 2011.

Among the Top 10 teams to fall on the Bramlage hardwood include No. 7 Missouri in 1989, No. 1 Missouri and No. 3 Oklahoma in 1990, No. 6 Missouri in 1992, No. 9 Oklahoma State in 2002, No. 10 Texas in 2004, No. 2 Kansas and No. 10 Texas A&M in 2008, No. 1 Texas in 2010, No. 1 Kansas in 2011, No. 7 Missouri in 2012 and No. 6 Oklahoma State and No. 7 Kansas in 2014 and No. 8 Kansas in 2015.

In 2013-14, the Wildcats became just the third team in school history to record two Top 10 home wins (for the first time since 2008), which included victories over No. 6 Oklahoma State and No. 7 Kansas.

In just 27 seasons, Bramlage Coliseum has played host to some of the biggest crowds in the history of K-State basketball, a program that is accustomed to playing in front of big crowds. In 2014-15, the Wildcats once again ranked among best in the country in home attendance, placing among the Top 35 for the eighth time in the last nine seasons. The team attracted 12,549 fans per game to 17 home games to rank 26th nationally and third in the Big 12. The 12,549 average ranked fourth in school history with eight of the Top 10 attendance averages coming since 2006-07. In the past nine years, the program has been rated 24th in 2012-13 (12,528), 25th in 2007-08 (12,529) and 2011-12 (12,783), 26th in 2006-07 (12,301), 2010-11 (12,652) and 2014-15 (12,549), 29th in 2013-14 (12,125) and 31st in 2009-10 (11,884) in the annual rankings.

Overall, K-State drew a total of 213,337 fans to its 17 home games in 2014-15, which marked the eighth time in the last nine seasons that the school has drawn 200,000 or more fans at home. The figure did include the Dec. 20, 2014 game against Texas A&M, which drew 14,884 fans for the Wildcat Classic at the Sprint Center in Kansas City.

K-State is one of 22 schools to draw over 12,000 in paid attendance for every regular season home game over the last five seasons, which includes the likes of Syracuse, Kentucky, Louisville, North Carolina, Creighton, Indiana, Wisconsin, Ohio State, Kansas, Memphis, BYU, Tennessee, Marquette, Illinois, New Mexico, Maryland, Michigan State, Arizona, Iowa State, N.C. State and Dayton.

The coliseum is named for the late 1935 K-State graduate and Junction City (Kan.) businessman Fred Bramlage, who made the principle contribution. The building was constructed at a cost of $17.2 million and was built in a 22-month period beginning in October 1986. Financial backing came from a number of areas, including $7 million from the student body and a matching figure from alumni. Unlike Ahearn Field House, state monies were not used for Bramlage Coliseum.

Mr. Bramlage was on hand on Oct. 18, 1986, to break ground on the new facility. Other dignitaries included then-Governor John Carlin and then university president Jon Wefald.

"What we begin here will add to the glory and reputation of Kansas State," said Bramlage. "My hope is that this building will inspire people to come together around teams in the spirit of cooperation."

→ First Game at Ahearn Field House

MIKE AHEARN
FIELD HOUSE

Ahearn Field House meant different things to different people. To K-Staters, it meant great atmosphere, roaring crowds and Wildcat victories. To opponents, it meant intimidation, deafening noise and likely defeat.

Then Indiana head coach Bob Knight paid the facility one of its biggest compliments by saluting the fans. The Hoosier mentor said, "This has to be the greatest basketball crowd in America."

Over four and half million fans witnessed Ahearn's long and fruitful tenure and saw the Wildcats amass an incredible record of 378-86 (.815) in 38 seasons. Included in those totals are six undefeated seasons - 1951-52 (11-0); 1958-59 (11-0); 1961-62 (10-0); 1969-70 (11-0); 1972-73 (12-0); 1974-75 (12-0) - and an arena-best 16 wins in 1981-82 under head coach Jack Hartman.

Kansas State averaged almost 10,000 fans for its 464 games in Ahearn Field House and drew an arena record 12,166 fans during the 1968-69 season. In fact, the Wildcats drew 11,000 or more fans 16 times in the history of Ahearn Field House, including nine straight seasons from 1961-

62 to 1969-70. The 378 wins are also the most at a home venue.

Ahearn's beginning officially started April 16, 1940, with a student rally although athletic director Mike Ahearn had mentioned the need for a new gymnasium several years earlier. The rally took place a full 10 years before the first game was played at the new field house.

The student rally kicked off an extended period of student demonstrations, petitions and pleading with state legislators for a new athletics facility which would be home to numerous events. However, at the heart of the matter, was basketball seating, or the lack of it.

As head coach Jack Gardner's Wildcat teams began to take off, so did the demand for tickets in the 2,800-seat Nichols Gymnasium, which had been home to the team for 30 years. The college's enrollment alone was almost twice the seating capacity of Nichols. Students began their field house campaign, which soon grew to be a statewide effort, with the slogan "Let's have a Crackerjack Field House instead of a Crackerbox Coliseum."

After countless petitions and rallies, the students took things a step further in January 1941. With over 100 legislators attending the K-State/Kansas basketball game as guests of the university, a body fell from the rafters of Nichols where many of the students were forced to sit. Although the body was made of straw and covered with ketchup rather than blood, the point was well taken.

"The way those students sat up on those rafters, it's really a wonder that somebody wasn't injured or killed," said Dev Nelson, the "Voice of the Wildcats" from 1954-79. "When the dummy fell from the rafters, it startled a lot of people."

In time, the long endeavors of the K-State students and supporters paid off with a new $2 million facility, which was the fifth largest in the country at its construction and the largest in the state of Kansas with a seating capacity of 13,000.

The structure opened on Dec. 9, 1950, when K-State defeated Utah State, 66-56 before a sellout crowd. Later that same season, on Jan. 31, 1951, an Ahearn Field House record crowd of 14,028 crammed in to see the Wildcats crush No. 4 Long Island, 85-65.

The last game in the building took place on March 5, 1988, when K-State defeated Missouri, 92-82, in front of 11,850. The last official seating capacity listed for the facility was 11,220 (over the years, seating was reduced to conform to fire codes).

Today, Ahearn Field House is one of America's showplace indoor facilities. It houses a Rekortan track for use by Kansas State's acclaimed men's and women's indoor track and field teams, three tennis courts for the women's tennis team and the home court of the 2011 Sweet 16 Wildcat women's volleyball squad. The volleyball team has ranked among the top 30 programs in the nation for home attendance in seven of the last 10 seasons, placing 24th nationally with more than 1,500 fans per contest.

→ Action at Nichols Gym

K-State's basketball tradition was born in Nichols Gymnasium located now on the grounds of Nichols Hall on the university campus. The gym achieved its fame, however, more for spawning the movement to build Ahearn Field House and for an arsonist's fire which gutted the structure on Dec. 13, 1968.

Nichols was named after Ernest Nichols, the university's fifth president from 1899-1909. Work on the facility began in February 1910, and was completed in June of that same year at a cost of $84,190 (the money was appropriated from state funds).

→ Crowds were packed into the 2,800-seat Nichols Gym, where the students often sat in the rafters.

The Wildcats defeated Bethany in the opener by a 40-20 count, then lost to Missouri, 58-55, in the final game on March 3, 1950.

Over the years, Kansas State won 227 games in the building (with a .627 winning percentage), including four seasons - 1916-17 (10-0); 1918-19 (10-0), 1919-20 (10-2) and 1947-48 (10-1) - of 10 victories. The last four teams compiled an impressive 36-5 (.878) record at Nichols Gym, including a 10-1 mark in 1947-48.

Fans at Nichols Gym saw some of the early milestones of the Kansas State program, including its first three All-Americans F. I. Reynolds (1917), Frank Groves (1937) and Rick Harman (1950) as well as early head coaches Mike Ahearn, Zora G. Clevenger (who would later be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame) and Jack Gardner (who later would be inducted into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame).

The school's first two conference championship teams - the Missouri Valley Conference champions in 1917 (15-2) and 1919 (17-2) - both called Nichols Gym home with each of the squads going 10-0 in the building. The school's first Final Four team - 1947-48 - also competed in the arena and posted a 10-1 mark, while its last team won the Big Seven Conference crown in 1949-50.

The seating capacity of Nichols was just 2,800 and by the time it closed, the crowds were easily overflowing. The student body was divided into two groups, and the groups alternated in attendance at every other game. People actually sat on the rafters and practice goals to see the games (see photo). That overcrowding problem eventually led to the construction of Ahearn Field House.

Prior to the advent of Nichols Gymnasium, Kansas State basketball was played in several locales. Among the homecourts were Commercial Hall, the K-State YMCA at 1100 Fremont in Manhattan and various other buildings around the town, including a closed-down skating rink.

The first game ever played on campus, a bout between the student team and the faculty, was staged in the Ag Barn at the north end of campus in January 1906. Twenty-five spectators attended, and the goals were provided by the blacksmith shop.

What will K-State look like in 2025? K-Staters have an idea.

President Kirk Schulz, Provost April Mason, students, staff and alumni are working toward the goal of becoming recognized nationally as a Top 50 public research university by 2025. To do that Kansas State University is working to boost total research and development expenditures, the total endowment and the number of undergraduate students involved in research, among other goals. In many ways, K-State is already well on its way to this goal. Check out the progress at www.k-state.edu/2025.

History and Location

Founded on Feb. 16, 1863, Kansas State University is the oldest public institution of higher education in Kansas and one of the first land-grant universities. It was located on the grounds of the old Bluemont Central College, which was chartered in 1858. The university moved to its present site in 1875.

Throughout its history, K-State's mission has been rooted in the principles set forth in the Morrill Act -- to provide teaching, research and service to the citizens of Kansas and beyond.

The 644-acre wooded campus with historic limestone buildings is located in northern Manhattan, Kan. (population of 56,143) and is convenient to both business and residential districts. This classic college town of more than 50,000 residents is growing steadily, attracting local and national businesses. In fact, Forbes rated Manhattan as No. 3 in the nation for best small places for businesses and careers in 2013, while Livability.com ranked it as one of "Best Places to Live" for the second straight year.

The university also has campuses in Olathe and Salina, Kan., along with numerous extension fields, offices and other facilities in Kansas and Nebraska. The K-State Salina campus offers bachelor's and associate degrees in aviation and engineering technologies.

The university hosts the prestigious Landon Lectures on Public Issues, honoring the late Kansas statesman Alfred M. Landon. Since 1966 the series has featured numerous nationally prominent speakers, including Martin Luther King, Jr., Presidents Richard Nixon, Jimmy Carter, Gerald Ford, Richard Nixon, Ronald Reagan, George H.W. Bush, Bill Clinton and George W. Bush as well as Supreme Court Associate Justice Sonia Sotomayor.

Academic Recognition

- Kansas State registered a Fall 2015 enrollment of 24,146, which included a record freshmen-to-sophomore retention rate of 83.45 percent. Multicultural students account for 15 percent of the student population.
- Kansas State was once again recognized by The Princeton Review as one of "The Best 378 Colleges" in 2016. Only 15 percent of the nation's 2,500 four-year colleges and three international schools are identified in the publication. The university was featured in Forbes magazine's 2016 America's Best Colleges List, which includes 650 college nationwide, as well as the 2016 U.S. News and World Report Best Colleges' list.
- Kansas State students have an excellent experience, according to the 2016 edition of The Princeton Review's "The Best 380 Colleges." The magazine credits Kansas State University students for helping shape the city's culture.
- Kansas State was selected as one of the next program sites for First Scholars, a national program aimed at increasing graduation rates among first-generation students. The Suder Foundation awarded the university $850,000 to cover student scholarships and start-up costs to launch the program.
- Researchers at Kansas State pulled in more than $151.3 million into the state through funding on research encompassing all areas of faculty strength setting a funding record.
- One of the top Business schools in the country, Kansas State plans to open a new 140,000-square foot building in the Summer of 2016, which will include tiered classrooms, a large showcase lecture hall, computer labs, a financial research lab and an executive conference room. Paul and Sandra Edgerley made a $10 million gift to support the new building.

Academic Excellence

K-State is the only research university in the U.S. to have three national CASE/Carnegie professors of the year. All three are active teachers: Michael Wesch, 2008 national winner; Chris Sorensen, 2007 national winner; and Dean Zollman, 1996 national winner.

More than 250 majors and programs are offered in nine colleges. The Graduate School offers 67 master's degrees, 39 doctoral degrees, five educational doctorate programs and 33 graduate certificates in multiple disciplines across campus.

More than $185 million is available in financial assistance, including $11 million in scholarships. Every year, seven out of 10 K-State students receive financial assistance. Even with more than 24,000 students, the university is committed to individualized education whenever possible.

For example, freshman English classes have no more than 22 students, introductory chemistry labs average 15 students, and speech classes are limited to 23 students. Seventy percent of classes have 30 students or less and the average class size for all undergraduate classes is 23 students. Ninety percent of classes have less than 49 students.

Student Achievement

Academic achievement of the institution is drawing national acclaim as well. Kansas State students have won more Truman scholarships, more Goldwater scholarships and more Phi Kappa Phi Fellowships than any other public university in the nation.

Over the past twenty-five years, K-State has ranked No. 1 in the nation among public universities in Rhodes, Truman, Marshall, Goldwater and Udall Scholars. The university has earned its reputation as the "Student Scholar Capital of America."

Students have an outstanding record of acceptance into professional schools. Over the past four years, 70 percent of qualified pre-med applicants were accepted into medical schools; 100 percent of pre-optometry and 82 percent of pre-dentistry students were accepted into respective professional schools. Over the past five years, 98 percent of students who participated in our pre-law program were accepted into law schools.

Wildcat Nickname

Through its first 19 seasons of athletic competition, K-State had used "Aggies" as its nickname. But prior to the 1915 season, new coach John "Chief" Bender gave his squad the nickname "Wildcats." The moniker lasted the one season Bender coached at K-State. Under head coach Z.G. Clevenger in 1917, the school team became known as the "Farmers." In 1920 new head coach, Charles Bachman, took over the program, renaming the team "Wildcats." This time, the nickname stuck.

Willie Wildcat

Willie, a student bedecked in a oversized Wildcat head, is Kansas State's No. 1 fan. Willie Wildcats are selected yearly by a panel appointed by the cheer coach. The mascot is a central part of athletic contests, but also attends functions around the state as an ambassador. Traditionally, the identity of the student is kept secret.

Touchdown I-XI

In 1922, Hall of Famer Charles Bachman asked alumni to consider donating an actual Wildcat to the school to serve as a mascot. KSAC alumni Herbert R. Groome and John E. McCoy, both veterinarians in Twin Falls, Idaho, donated "Touchdown I" to the school shortly after the animal was nursed back to health under their care. (The bobcat had an encounter with a porcupine, and his face and throat were punctured by numerous quills. The mascot never fully recovered from its fight, dying of pneumonia shortly after arriving in Manhattan.)

Although the bobcats have served as K-State's wildcat mascot since 1922, the animals no longer attend K-State games. Touchdown XI, the 11th in the line, was kept at Manhattan's Sunset Zoo.

K-State Colors

The school color Royal Purple was adopted in the fall of 1896 by a committee of "Miss Minnie L. Copeland, Jr. and Miss Winnifred Houghton and Miss Ina E. Holyrod, of the senior class, and perhaps one or more others." Although K-State's only official color is purple, white has been used as a complimentary color for many years. Silver and black are also common second and third colors. Former basketball coach Bob Huggins introduced a black uniform in 2006 and it continues to be used by both basketball teams, along with volleyball and baseball. Both basketball squads also utilize a silver uniform. Former basketball coach Cotton Fitzsimmons incorporated gold during his two-year stint (1968-70), but gold or yellow has not been used since that time.

The term "Purple Pride," which is often used in association with K-State athletics, was given rise during the tenure of head football coach Vince Gibson (1967-74).

Powercat Logo

One of the most recognizable athletic logos in the nation is the K-State Powercat. The logo was introduced by Bill Snyder shortly after his arrival in Manhattan as the attitude of the entire athletics department and university was changing. Manhattan native Tom Bookwalter, in cooperation with head coach Bill Snyder, created the powerful logo that is a prominent feature on the football helmet, at Wagner Field, on the back of the Dev Nelson Pressbox, clothing, flags, bottled water, vanity plates for cars and just about anywhere in Manhattan.

Previous logos used by the athletics department included a line drawing of a wildcat head and the cartoonish "Willie Wildcat" that is used only by the Alumni Association.

School Songs

The Alma Mater was selected as a result of a 1903 campus contest. H.W. Jones ('88) was responsible for K-State's prized result. Jones' original work was four stanzas including the chorus. His version has been slightly altered over the years to include just two stanzas and the changing of the words from Kansas State Agricultural College to Kansas State University.

alma mater

"I know a spot that I love full well, 'Tis not in forest nor yet in dell, ever it holds me with magic spell, I think of thee Alma Mater.
"KSU, we'll carry the banner high, KSU long, long may thy colors fly.
Loyal to thee thy children shall swell the cry.
"Hail, Hail, Hail Alma Mater."

wildcat victory

"Fight you K-State Wildcats. For Alma Mater fight-fight-fight.
"Glory into combat for the purple and white. Faithful to our colors, we shall ever be, fighting ever fighting for a Wildcat Victory!"

wabash cannonball

Everyone knows that familiar tune Wabash Cannonball. In fact, Wabash and K-State are almost synonymous. What many people do not know is how the song became an integral part of Wildcat athletics. In the fall of 1969 the department of music burnt down. Every piece of music in the building was destroyed. The only thing that was salvaged was what was in the band director's brief case. That included a piece of music titled the Wabash Cannonball. With an upcoming football game and no music, that left only one thing to do. The band members played the song loud and often. A song that originally had no connection to K-State became a second fight song.

Slogans

Several chants and slogans are used in association with the team. "Purple Pride" and "Eat 'Em Up, Eat 'Em Up K-S-U" are just a few. One slogan that has virtually died out is "Every Man A Wildcat." The term was popular in the '50s, '60s and early '70s, and once adorned the front of the Ahearn Field House press box. Since the term referred to only one gender, however, it has faded. Kansas State, itself, is referred to in many different shortened versions. The most popular is "K-State", which is used by alums, friends and journalists from coast to coast.

"Voice of the Wildcats"

To go along with the outstanding basketball tradition at K-State is a long line of memorable "Voices of the Wildcats." Wildcat fans around the region have enjoyed broadcasts by Hall-of-Famers Bob Hilgendorf, Dev Nelson, Gary Bender, Fred White, Steve Physioc, Ron Paradis, Mitch Holthus, Greg Sharpe and currently in his 14th season, Wyatt Thompson.

A pioneer in broadcasting in Kansas, Bob Hilgendorf was the Wildcats' play-by-play announcer for both football and basketball for seven years (1947-54). In 1951, he organized the K-State Sports Network, one of the country's first college-operated sports networks. He also broadcasted seven Final Fours.

→ "Voices of the Wildcats" Reunion in 2007.

Dev Nelson was the K-State Sports Information Director from 1966-72 and handled the Wildcats' play-by-play duties for both football and basketball as "Voice of the Wildcats" for 25 years (1954-79). He earned Kansas Sportscaster of the Year honors five times and appeared on that award's final ballot of three for 18 consecutive years. In addition to his work on the Wildcat Network, Nelson also was the first man on the Big Eight Television Basketball Network and originated the state high school basketball tournament all-site coverage. His first K-State athletics broadcast was a 65-51 win over Kansas in 1951 at Ahearn Field House on the 550-station Liberty Network. The Press Floor of Bill Snyder Family Stadium is named in honor of the 1949 K-State graduate.

Gary Bender worked for WIBW calling the action at Wildcat games sandwiched between Dev Nelson and Fred White during the 1966 and 1967 seasons. He went on to work for many years at CBS Sports, ABC Sports, ESPN, TNT and Fox Sports, including calling the 1981 NBA Finals and 1982 and 1983 NCAA Championship games. He officially retired on April 13, 2011 from Fox Sports Arizona after 18 years as the television play-by-play voice of the Phoenix Suns. Bender was inducted into the Kansas Sports Hall of Fame in 2008.

Fred White called the action for football and basketball games from 1967-79 for WIBW. He was the radio voice of the Kansas City Royals for 25 years. The award-winning announcer was heard year-round after working college basketball and football games for CBS Sports, NBC Sports, ABC Sports, TBS, Raycom, Jefferson Pilot, Creative Sports and ESPN. White, who earned numerous Kansas Sportscaster of the year awards, retired as the Royals' Director of Broadcast Services in 2008. He passed away on May 15, 2013 of complications from melanoma.

Steve Physioc served as "Voice of the Wildcats" from 1979-83. After leaving WIBW in 1983, he has served as play-by-play announcer for the Cincinnati Reds and Bengals (1983-87), San Francisco Giants (1987-88), San Diego Padres (1989-90), Golden State Warriors (1989-91), Vancouver Grizzlies (1995-96), Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim (1996-2009) and is currently in his fifth year, handling television play-by-play duties for the Kansas City Royals. Physioc was a member of the ESPN staff from 1988-95 where he announced Major League Baseball, college basketball and baseball as well as Big Ten football before joining FOX Sports Net and KCAL in Los Angeles. He currently broadcasts college basketball games on FOX Sports Net and ESPNU. He is a 1977 graduate of K-State.

Ron Paradis was a three-year letterman at K-State from 1964-66 before embarking on a broadcasting career. During his tenure at WIBW-TV, Paradis served as "Voice of the Wildcats" in 1984. He led the Wildcats in scoring (12.3 ppg) and free-throw shooting (78.4) in 1965. Paradis still ranks among the top five career free throw shooters in K-State history.

Mitch Holthus was "Voice of the Wildcats" from 1984-96 while earning Kansas Sportscaster of the Year honors in 1987, 1989, 1991, 1992, 1993 and 1994 by the National Association of Sportswriters and Sportscasters. He is the youngest broadcaster to receive every major sportscasting award in the state of Kansas, winning the Kansas Broadcasters Association best play-by-play sportscast nine times. The 1996 winner of the Hod Humiston Award of Excellence in Kansas Sportscasting and the 2007 winner of the John Sanders Spirit of the Valley by the Missouri Valley Conference, he will be inducted in the K-State Athletics Hall of Fame in January 2016. He is in his 22nd season as play-by-play analyst for the Kansas City Chiefs. He also broadcasts college basketball games for ESPN.

Greg Sharpe was K-State's man behind the mike from 1997 to 2001 and moved into the play-by-play role after serving as the Wildcats' color analyst from 1989 to 1996. Sharpe, who called the 2001 NCAA Tournament for the Westwood One radio network, was named the Kansas Sportscaster of the Year in 1997. He is currently in his eighth year as the play-by-play voice of the Nebraska Cornhuskers.

Gameday Information

Working Credentials

Media outlets interested in covering K-State men's basketball on either a season or individual-game basis are requested to submit all applications for credentials through the credential application website. To access the site, please visit www.k-statesports.com/media. The Athletics Communications Office will not process written requests for credentials. Because of inconsistent mail delivery service on tight deadlines, media passes may not be mailed in some instances. In this case, passes may be picked up with the parking attendant at Gate 7 on Tex Winter Drive (off Kimball Avenue) beginning two hours prior to kickoff. Individuals picking up passes will be required to furnish proper identification.

Media Parking

Parking passes at Bramlage Coliseum will be issued upon request and are available only to accredited media. Press parking is located in the VIP parking lot on the East side through Gate 7 on Tex Winter Drive.

Visiting Radio

To inquire about access to existing radio courtesy lines (ISDN as well as analog lines), visiting radio stations should contact Matt Brown of Learfield Communications at mbrown@learfield.com.

Websites of K-State Athletics

This new app enables fans to access all sport programs, live audio, video and real-time K-State social streams. The app, which launched August 1, is the ultimate guide for fans attending K-State games and includes interactive maps, fan guides, upgrades and more. Launched in 2011, K-StateHD.TV is an exclusive high-definition online network providing K-State a world-wide connection for live athletics and academics, classic games, press conferences, original programming plus much more.

Media Services

Packets including statistics, pregame notes, flipcards, programs and in some cases, media guides, will be available for media in the Seaton Media Room prior to the game. The Seaton Media Room is located off the court adjacent to the visiting team locker room.

Halftime and final boxscores, a running play-by-play and postgame notes and quotes from head coaches and players of both teams also will be provided and will be posted on www.kstatesports.com following the game. ### Postgame Policy

Kansas State's locker room is closed. Media will be asked to submit a list of player requests to Tom Gilbert with five minutes remaining in the game. Head coach Bruce Weber and requested players will be available in the designated interview room at the top of the tunnel in Bramlage Coliseum. Requested players will be made available for a short period time. Weber will be available following his postgame radio obligations.

Visiting Team Policy

Following Big 12 policy, the opposing coach and selected players will be given the option to go first in the interview room. However, they will also be given the choice to conduct interviews outside their locker room near the Seaton Media Room. Please check with the visiting media relations representative(s) for their list of policies and procedures. A list of contacts with phone numbers can be found on the opposite page.

Internet Access

The press area as well as the Seaton Media Room in Bramlage Coliseum is equipped with high-speed wireless Internet. Media wishing to file stories electronically as well as photographers may access the network with a wireless internet card. Please contact a member of the athletics communications staff for instructions relating to the network. It is a password-protected wireless network.

A limited number of charge-per-call telephones are located in the Seaton Media Room will be available for filing after the game on a first-come, first-served basis. All media wishing to have phone lines installed on press row will be responsible for making their own arrangements. Phones may be ordered through K-State Telecommunications at 785.532.7001.

CREDENTIAL POLICY

Credentials and working space for media members are issued at the sole and exclusive discretion of the K-State Athletic Communications Office, based on the following priorities and guidelines:

1. Originating radio and television personnel involved in a live broadcast.
2. Daily newspapers regularly covering K-State, the current-game opponent or another Big 12 school. Wire services, regional and national publications are also afforded this priority.
3. Non-originating radio and television personnel producing reports on the game. Only local radio stations with a full-time sports director conducting a regular sports show receive consideration for credentials.
4. Officially recognized Kansas State student publications or student electronic media outlets.
5. Non-daily newspapers or publications reporting on the game.

Other Credential Guidelines

- With the exception of beat writers covering Kansas State daily, all passes are issued on a game-by-game basis with consideration of available working space.
- Passes are non-transferable and are subject to immediate revocation if transferred to non-working media members.
- Kansas State University and the NCAA prohibit the issuance of credentials to representatives of an organization that regularly publishes gambling information, such as "tout" or "tip" sheets.
- Credentials are issued to web sites that are affiliated with web sites for national or regional television and news media organizations, e.g. USA Today Online, ESPN.com, SI.com, CBSportsLine.com, etc., for institutions that are conference members and non-conference opponents, and for the Big 12.
- If a news-gathering medium has an on-line site that sponsors these anonymous forums, they may continue to request credentials under its traditional medium (newspaper, magazine, radio or television), but will not be granted additional passes or access for on-line staff.

- Websites that sponsor "message boards" or "chat rooms" where people are allowed to post anonymous information or rumors are ineligible for credentials or access to media functions.
- Kansas State University reserves the right to deny media credentials to any individual whose website is not affiliated with a recognized news-gathering organization.
- All persons picking up credentials will be required to furnish positive identification. All credentials are non-transferable.
- Restrictions have been made on the usage of internet video of K-State Athletic events. Highlights of game action and/or press conference from K-State events are limited to and cannot exceed three (3) minutes in length per event.

NOTE: Spouses, dates, non-workers and anyone under 16 years of age are not permitted in the working press area.
